TWO OFFICIALS, FOUR OTHERS, INDICTED IN ST. CLAIR COUNTY TAX GRAFT INVESTIGATION

CONSPIRACY TO GET BRIBES FROM UNION ELECTRIC AMONG CHARGES

Frank P. McKane of Board of Review and Charles E. Melvin of Assessors Accused — $30,000 Said to Have Been Obtained.

ARTHUR P. O'LEARY
ALSO IS NAMED

Edward J. Delmore, Packing Company Vice-President, Addison I. Throop and Harry Parker Included in List.

Indictments charging five men with conspiracy and a sixth with bribery were returned before Circuit Judge Miller at Belleville today in the St. Clair County tax graft scandal exposed April 13 by the Post-Dispatch.

Those named by the special grand jury, which began the investigation yesterday, are:

Frank P. McKane of East St. Louis, member of the County Board of Review.

Charles E. Melvin of East St. Louis, member of the County Board of Assessors.

Arthur P. O'Leary of East St. Louis, former chairman of the Board of Review.

Edward J. Delmore of East St. Louis, vice-president and auditor of the Hunter Packing Co.

Addison J. Throop of Prospect Park, an East St. Louis suburb, who resigned as chairman of the Board of Review on April 13 after confessing complicity in wholesale tax frauds.

Harry Parker, former confidential employee of Throop's Call Packing Co., in East St. Louis, who "went South" prior to the investigation.

Parker Accused of Forgery.

Parker was charged with forgery, an offense punishable by an indefinite penitentiary term of from one to 14 years. The others were charged, with conspiracy, punishable by a term of one to five years, or a fine up to $2000, or both.

While making the general charge that the defendants conspired to defraud corporations and individuals with the view of getting better for their services, it mentions only one specific case of alleged assessment-fixing, relating to the valuation of the Cahokia plant of the Union Electric Light & Power Co., south of East St. Louis. In this case, the grand jury charged that the conspiracy defendants proposed to receive from the Union Electric large sums of money to influence the five defendants "to reduce the assessed valuation of the Union Electric Light & Power Co. for purposes of taxation."

Five Counts Mention Concern. Five of the eight counts of the indictment are devoted to the Union Electric case covering the alleged fixing of the valuation for the purpose of obtaining bribes, and regarding the figures in the county records.

The remaining counts charge that five defendants conspired at a meeting on July 7, 1932, to the end that they collected, demanded and retained as bribes, presents and rewards to unlawfully and corruptly aid and assist in matters relating to the assessment and taxation of real property owned and possessed by persons and corporations, and to use their powers as members of taxing boards with corrupt partiality to persons and corporations.

It is also charged that they received "bribes" totaling $30,000 and sums unknown to the grand jury to fix assessments with particularity to persons and corporations.

The story of the manipulation of Union Electric assessment was told by the Post-Dispatch on April 10, in connection with its investigation of the East Side tax graft scandal.

500 CITY WORKERS TO BE DROPPED AS ECONOMY MOVE

Jobs Will Be Abolished
by New Administration in Effort to Balance Municipal Budget.

At least 500 city employees will be dismissed in the efforts of the new administration to balance the budget by economizing. City Hall attaches estimate. There have been about 7000 city workers.

In addition, many of the jobs to be retained on the payroll are expected to be transferred eventually from Republicans, who have been holding them, to Democrats. Political changes in the ranks of employees have not been made yet. However, at least 43 major and minor officials have been appointed to offices Republicans by Mayor Dickmann, who took office 10 days ago.

Except for seven positions as superintendents of eleemosynary institutions, most of the important posts have been filled.

In hiring new employees only one person in a family will be accepted and under no circumstance would there be any chosen from families already represented on the Federal, State or Municipal payroll, elective officers appointed, Mayor Dickmann announced today.

"In this unprecedented flood of applications for public employment there must be a line drawn somewhere so as to spread the available employment over the largest field possible," the Mayor explained. "This can only be done if fill municipal positions must not feel that participation in my campaign gives them any guarantee of retention if they do not deliver efficient service. The taxpayers, we must remember, are entitled to their share of the new deal." The heads of departments will be held responsible for efficient and economic service.

Must Deliver Service. "Another thing I would like to stress is that our platform promised that every city employee would be required to give a dollar's worth of service for every dollar received in salary. The men and women approved by the Efficiency Board by limiting appointments in such a way. At the present rate it appears that the number of applicants will outnumber the positions seven to one.

Latest information available at City Hall indicates the city deficit for the last fiscal year, which ended April 10, may not exceed $300,000.

WOMAN JUROR, FUGITIVE, AND HER FAMILY KILL SELVES

Mrs. Clark, Sentenced to Six Months for Contempt

Discovery of Bodies Ends
Search That Began Monday When She Failed to Appear to Begin Serving
Her Term.

By the Associated Press.
ST. PAUL, Minn., April 28.—Mrs. Genevieve Clark, woman juror in the Foshay mail fraud trial, who was scheduled to go to jail Monday to serve a six-month sentence for contempt, was found dead, with her husband and two sons, in the family automobile last night.

Carbon monoxide, carried into the closed car by a rubber hose attached to the exhaust, was the cause of death.

In the back seat was the body of Mrs. Clark, her arms around the two boys, Rowland, 10 years old, and Dean, 7. Her husband, Daniel D. Clark, was in the front seat. All the windows were closed. The motor had been started.

After sentence, Mrs. Clark had until 3 p. m. Monday to report at the jail. When she failed to appear a bench warrant was issued for her arrest, but Federal Marshals were unable to find her. Neighbors reported that an automobile had left the Clark home in Minneapolis late Sunday night.

The car parked with the bodies in it was found parked near the Scott and Dakota Counties line, about 15 miles south of St. Paul, by Christ Laursen, farmer. He said he first saw the car Wednesday noon, but paid no attention to it. When he saw it in the same place yesterday, he investigated. Laursen notified Leon Page, Prior Lake Marshal, who with Dr. F. H. Perrin of Prior Lake, investigated.

During the trial of W. B. Foshay, H. H. Henley and five associates on mail fraud charges growing out of the collapse of the Foshay trust and other enterprises in 1928, Mrs. Clark, as a juror, held out for a quittal for nearly a week. The 11 jurors favored conviction. The jury finally was discharged without reaching an agreement.

Soon afterward the Government charged that Mrs. Clark had failed to tell that she once worked for a Foshay firm and that her husband had had business dealings with the firm.

Two Federal Judges found her guilty of contempt and sentenced her to six months in jail and fined her $1000. She appealed.

The United States Court of Appeals upheld the conviction but ruled that either a jail sentence or fine could be imposed, but not both. The United States Supreme Court upheld this view.

Last Friday two Judges sentenced Mrs. Clark to six months in jail.

Foshay and Henley subsequently were convicted and have appealed. The five others, pleading guilty or no contest, were put on probation.

Authorities said they learned from relatives Schick had been brooding over loss of his business, a machine company, in January, 1932.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The text of Senator Carter Glass' speech late yesterday against the "controlled inflation" amendment to the farm bill follows:

Mr. President—it has been my desire to make a somewhat complete exposition of the pending bill in order that I may indicate to the Senate and to the country precisely why I feel compelled to vote against it. I find myself physically unable to do that, however, but I cannot refrain from briefly indicating my objection to the measure.

The newspapers of yesterday and today have stated that the senior Senator from Virginia has created a sensation by disagreeing with the President. The implication is, of course, that any Senator who now preserves his intellectual integrity and consistently maintains the views which he has privately and publicly expressed for many years is creating a sensation. I have not deserted my party. I wrote with my own hand that provision of the national Democratic platform which declared for a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards.

His One Campaign Speech.

I was unable, because of illness, to make more than one speech during the entire presidential campaign. And in that one speech, with all the righteous indignation that I could summon, and in terms perhaps of some bitterness, I reflected that the purpose of the bill, and consistently maintained the views which he has privately and publicly expressed for many years is creating a sensation. I have not deserted my party. I wrote with my own hand that provision of the national Democratic platform which declared for a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards.

Two Federal Judges found her guilty of contempt and sentenced her to six months in jail and fined her $1000. She appealed.

Robinson of Arkansas Says
Veterans' Compensation
Would Destroy Whole
Purpose of Inflation, Prevents U. S. Meeting Debts.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The last-minute attempt to tack a cash bonus amendment to the currency inflation measure in the Senate was buried under an avalanche of votes this afternoon. The proposal, sponsored by Senators Arthur Robinson of Idaho and George Borah, authorizing the President to order the printing of $2,225,000,000 in Treasury notes to be paid World War veterans, was rejected by a vote of 60 to 28.

Senators Clark and Patterson of Missouri both voted against it, Clark closing the debate with a ringing condemnation of the amendment.

Leaders expected that the inflation measure—which is in the form of a rider to the farm bill—would pass the Senate to-day.

The Senate adopted an amendment to the administration's inflation plan raising from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 the amount of silver that could be accepted by the United States as part payment on war debts. The amendment, introduced by Senator Hayden (Dem.), Arizona, was adopted without a record vote.

It had the approval of the administration. Later the Senate voted to reconsider the vote.

The amendment would permit payment of war debts during the next six months in silver, which would be received at the value of 50 cents an ounce. With silver at its present market price of about 36 cents, this would make a considerable mark-down in the payment.

Amendment on Contracts.

Senator Dill (Dem.), Washington, also offered an amendment providing that all bonds issued on contracts made hereafter which specify that payment shall be made in gold, shall actually be payable in the legal money of the country. He pointed out that his proposal did not apply to outstanding bonds and contracts.

"We are asking the people to have confidence in the Government. Ought not the Government to have some confidence in the people?" He demanded a guarantee of bank deposits.

"Suppose," Borah added, "the head of a family has preserved and placed where he believes it safe a certain amount of gold and has in a sense provided it as insurance against adversity; why should the Government insist that he bring in his gold and turn it in a bank that may fail?"

Demand Under Conditions.

"If the Government is unwilling to make the deposit safe, it is unfair, unjust and unconstitutional to demand the people bring in their gold and put it in a bank that is unsafe. If the Government demands that gold be turned in it is the highest duty of the Government to guarantee bank deposits and only through such a program will you ever get such money out of board-

"We have $2,000,000 tied up in closed banks in this country. One of the most effective ways to promote inflation would be for the Government to take care of these depositors.

"In view of the experience of the people in the last few months, in view of that, the Government should ask the citizens who may have money in their pockets to remove it and put it in a bank. Borah, indicating he had $6000 in gold I'd deposit the Government to come and get it."

Senators Johnson (Rep.), California, and Borah had the power to say whether gold ought to be deposited in a bank. Borah, indicating he had $6000 in gold I'd deposit the Government to come and get it."

"The President of the United States has announced, through the majority leader in this body, that he will not put into effect the permissive powers—and they are permissive, not mandatory—granted to him by this

MISSOURI PACIFIC OFFICERS' PAY CUT 40 TO 50 PER CENT

U. S. Court Order in Bankruptcy Action Slashes President Baldwin's Salary to $40,000.

RAILROAD HEAD WAS GETTING $85,000

E. M. Durham Jr., Senior Vice-President, Takes Reduction From $40,000 to $19,200.

Federal Judge Faris today ordered a reduction of about 50 per cent in the salary of President L. W. Baldwin of the Missouri Pacific Lines and reductions of 40 to 45 per cent for other high executives.

The swooping action was taken by Judge Faris in the bankruptcy proceeding instituted by the Missouri Pacific a month ago which resulted in an order by the court that President Baldwin should continue to operate the railway system under the direction of the court.

Baldwin's salary was fixed at $40,000, a reduction from $85,000. The order states that it is to be a monthly salary of $333.33 payable "until further order."

Durham's Pay Cut $20,000.

The salary of E. M. Durham Jr., senior vice-president, was fixed at $19,200, a reduction from $40,000. The court order fixed the salaries of 11 other executives of which the highest was $18,000 for the executive vice-president, H. R. Safford.

According to Interstate Commerce Commission reports Baldwin was making $85,116 a year in the capacities in which he will now be paid $40,000. These capacities are as president of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Co., the New Orleans, Texas & Mexico Railway and the International Great Northern Railroad, the group comprising the Missouri Pacific system.

Baldwin receives additional compensation, however, as an officer of other affiliated transportation corporations, making his annual compensation, before the reduction, to something over $100,000 a year. As chairman of the board of the Denver & Rio Grande Railway he receives $12,750 a year and as president of the Missouri Pacific Transportation Co. (bus lines) $6000. These salaries are not affected by the court's order, as the corporations are not parties to the bankrupcy action.

New Pay Effective April 1.

The new salaries are effective as of April 1. Where they apply to executives giving services to all three of the railroads they are to be the full compensation to be prorated as follows: Missouri Pacific Railway Co., 80 per cent; New Orleans, Texas & Mexico, 12 per cent; International Great Northern, eight per cent.

The order provides that no salaries are to be paid to O. P. Van Sweringen, chairman of the board, or to A. H. Sanford, vice-president. They were not salaried executives of the Missouri Pacific Lines.

Efforts were made to have Judge Faris keep the salary reduction order from becoming public. He was visited by an executive of an Eastern insurance company who pleaded the public interest in the high salaries paid the railroad's executive might have a bad effect, and also by representatives of Eastern financial groups interested in the company's securities. It is understood the railway executives were willing to accept reductions but sought to avoid publicity.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 28.—State Auditor J. plant was $3,800,000. In 1929 it was raised to $8,750,000 by the Board of Review.

In 1930 it was raised again, this year the same figure was placed on it, but the Board of Assessors went back to the books on July 10, 1931, after it had closed them and reduced it to $4,250,000.

This figure of the Board of Review raises again to $10,450,000 on the same day. On that next day it recorded the same figure that the new figure was "widely assumed" to be.

Subsequently it developed that the figure for that year was $3,500,000. The same figure was in 1932.

Meanwhile Union Electric filed suit protesting against the assessment of 1929 and 1930, and the suit was finally compromised on a valuation of $7,800,000 for each of those years.

Charge Based on Letters.

The forgery indictment against Parker is based on a set of eight letters signed by Throop, and Parker acknowledged that the St. Louis Daily World paid $10,000 to a St. Louis newspaper.

One of the letters purported to be addressed to McKane and included a recital of collections of $23,000 from various East Side firms.

Another of the letters, addressed to a corporation, sought a "loan" of $10,000, and the remaining six purported to be written to introduce emissaries of the graft ring to East Side corporation executives.

Throop, while admitting complicity in the graft, denied authorship of the letters and declared Parker wrote them. Throop said he gave Parker eight or nine sheets of his business stationery signed by him, with instructions to his employee to write on them letters of thanks to St. Clair County Democrats who had endorsed Throop for a State job. He expressed the opinion that Parker had forged the form they finally appeared with the intention of selling them and leaving town with the money so obtained.

The indictment against Parker is in two counts. The first charges him with forgery of the letters and the second with attempting to sell them to the East St. Louis Daily Journal.

Inquiry to Continue.

After the grand jury had returned the true bill, at 1:15 p. m. today, it was adjourned by Judge Miller, with instructions to return at 9 a. m. Wednesday for further consideration of the case in which more indictments are expected. In addition to the persons named in the indictment Throop also implicated in the tax graft an East Side contractor.

The special grand jury was impaneled Wednesday and began hearing witnesses yesterday. It succeeded the regular grand jury which was discharged last Friday after having been impaneled on April 1.

The regular grand jury was selected by the County Board of Supervisors, the present body by Sheriff Munie who drew it from a list of leading citizens of all parts of the county.

CITIES SERVICE CO. DENIES IT TRIED TO 'RIG' MARKET

Makes Formal Statement in Reply to Charges by Federal Trade Commission's Examiner.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Testimony before the Federal Trade Commission today by Dr. Thomas Mitchell, attorney for the examiner's assistant-commissioner, regarding alleged efforts by the Cities Service Co. to "uphold" the price of Cities Service Co. common stock in the 1929 market crash, was accompanied by a formal denial from the part of the company that it had tried to "rig" the market.

Mitchell, continuing his testimony in connection with the operations of the Cities Service Securities Co., wholly owned by the Cities Service Co., stated that after the beginning of the market break in October, 1929, $138,061,068 was spent in the purchase of 2,721,201 shares of Cities Service common. The stock was purchased, he said, by the Henry L. Doherty Management Co., of which Henry L. Doherty was sole proprietor, for the account of the securities company.

"These purchases were not sufficient to uphold the market price, and the price broke from a high of 92 1/2 Oct. 16, to 20 on Oct. 30," Mitchell said.

Robert Burns, general counsel for the Cities Service Co., in a formal statement regarding the examiner's references to the October activities, said the orders in October from company's customers on both a volume and value basis exceeded its purchases.

"It was the public buying," Burns said, "and not Doherty management buying, which was the real influence on the market. There was no secret rigging by the Doherty management, and there is nothing in the examiner's report to support such a claim."

"This debt has been due since the 'arbitrization,' " Robinson said. "It's overdone."

A few moments later, on motion of Senator Lewis of Illinois, the Democratic whip, the Senate voted to postpone the debate on the pending amendment to pay the soldiers' bonus.

He apologized to Senate doorkeepers and agreed not to do it again, but could not get back into the crowded gallery immediately.

"I was excited and forgot myself," Burns said. "I didn't mean to violate the rules."

The bonus march leader applauded a remark by Senator Robinson (Rep.), Indiana, author of the bonus amendment.

"This debt has been due since the 'arbitrization,'" Robinson said. "It's overdone."

A few moments later, on motion of Senator Lewis of Illinois, the Democratic whip, the Senate voted to postpone the debate on the pending amendment to pay the soldiers' bonus.

COUNTY GRAND JURY URGES ECONOMY AS STATE WITNESS AT PIERSON TRIAL

uggests Consolidation of Hospital and Health Department.

alary cuts for public employees and consolidation of the St. Louis County Hospital with the Board of Health are included among the recommendations contained in the final report of the January term grand jury in St. Louis County, said in Circuit Court today.

It is suggested that the salaries of all county employees be reduced 15 to 33-1/2 per cent, except cases where cuts have been made since Jan. 1, 1932. Official use salaries and fees are fixed and corresponding reductions "in line" with the national economy program.

The report addresses the question of economy by pointing out depression and the resultant anxiety in anticipating revenue.

The cost of public health administration could be reduced 50 per cent through consolidation of the Board of Health with the County Hospital, the report states.

The superintendent of the hospital would assume the duties of Health Commissioner, the grand jury suggests.

Reduction of the salaries of higher paid hospital employees from 9 to 25 per cent, and cuts in pay and travel allowance of Health personnel would result in an annual saving of $26,000.

The report also recommends the finding of quarters for tuberculosis patients and the infirm at the County Hospital, if it were found that the care of such patients could be cheaper under such arrangement as compared with that of maintaining them in other institutions, as is now the case.

The fee system of operation by hospitals, especially in traffic cases, where the officer has a financial interest in the outcome of the case, and the issuance of courtesy badges by the Constable of Central Township are practices condemned by the grand jury.

Use of loose election methods in Upper County City are also subject to criticism in the report, which demands on the theft of $75 which came from one polling place during a recent municipal election.

"Such loose methods leave the door wide open to fraud," the jurors declare.

The grand jury met on 17 days and returned five true bills and four true bills. Girard C. Varnum, president of the St. Louis County Chamber of Commerce, was foreman.

Evening Meadows as he sat in the witness chair a few feet away. Sullivan said it would have been "highly unethical for us to take this witness under sentence of death, and kill him before the trial."

"Then there is," Lacy argued.

Sullivan is intimating this witness. That is just what we are protesting against." At Lacy's request, Meadows was taken out of the courtroom for a brief period, while the attorneys argued.

Told of Getting Money.

With a transcript of Meadow's previous testimony, Sullivan tried out various points. Meadows had been to Kingshighway and Marquette, and of returning to the place where his first trial was held. He also referred to receiving money through Cotham, which he said Cotham figured at a sum of about $800, although he himself "never figured it was that."

Today was the third day of testimony in the trial. Person was indicted at the previous trial and sentenced to death but the Missouri Supreme Court set aside the conviction. The charge is based on the death of Miss May Frazer, one seven persons who lost their lives in the fire.

JUDGE ASSAULTED, IOWA GOVERNOR CALLS OUT MILITIA

Crowd at Le Mars Seizes Jurist When He Refuses to Take Oath Not to Sign Foreclosure Orders.

ROPE AROUND NECK, HE IS MADE TO PRAY

Gov. Herring Doubts Farmers Were Instigators or Leaders, But 'Can't Permit Such Things.'

By the Associated Press.

LE MARS, Ia., April 28.—Judge Charles C. Bradley, 60-year-old dean of his judicial district, who has served for 15 years in one court, was seized by 100 angry farmers yesterday after they had failed in an effort to force him to take an oath that he would not sign any more foreclosure decrees. He was slapped, smeared with grease and dirt and choked.

The Judge was said to be recovering from the effects of his experience.

Gov. Orders Out Troops.

Gov. Clyde Herring today mustered a battalion of the Iowa National Guard for service at Le Mars. The Governor acted in response to a request from Sheriff Ralph Ripley of Plymouth County. He immediately issued instructions and Adjutant-General Charles H. Gradih ordered out the Third Battalion of the 133d Infantry at Sioux City.

Gov. Herring said: "We simply can't permit such things to go on. I doubt that actual farmers were the instigators, but, in the end, regardless of who they were, we have decided to send troops into the vicinity immediately."

The attack followed almost immediately after the Judge had refused the farmers' demand. He was dragged from the bench and taken to the courthouse lawn, pushed into a truck and hauled away to a crossroad about a mile away.

Ordered to Pray for Farmers.

There the farmers put a rope around his neck and renewed their demand for an oath. When the Judge did not reply, one of the farmers, in a rage, took a rock and the Judge choked and fell. On his knees the Judge was ordered to pray—"for the farmers."

He complied and offered a short prayer in which he said: "I will do the fair thing to all men to the best of my knowledge."

He prayed a farmer set a hub cap from a nearby truck on his head and poured oil on his face. Then the farmers threw dirt at him and it stuck in the grease and oil.

The crowd ordered the Judge to take off his trousers which they packed with dirt and grease. He was left trouserless in the road.

A minister's son came along in an automobile and brought Judge Bradley back to the courthouse. He asked to be alone and a short while later went to his home. He said he was "up to his ears."

Governor Comments.

Gov. Herring without specifying any individuals by name commented on peace officers "without nerve to enforce the law" and added: "We will do whatever is necessary to enforce law and order when an appeal is made to the Sheriff. Our duty is to await an appeal."

Park A. Findlay, head of the State bureau of criminal investigation, said that "apparently local law enforcement agencies have fallen down" but he did not indicate what, if any, action was contemplated.

Farmers Clash With Deputies in Trying to Stop Sale.

By the Associated Press.

PRIMGHAR, Ia., April 28.—Several hundred farmers clashed with deputy sheriffs in the O'Brien County Court-house yesterday, but failed to stop a Sheriff's sale of a farm.

Held back by deputies while the sale was completed under the direction of Sheriff Ed Leemkuil, the crowd heard the O'Brien County attorney, attorney for the interests holding the mortgage on the farm.

The deputies were equipped with tear bombs and machine guns, but did not use them.

Glass Says Inflation Bill Means Repudiation, Dishonor

It is the right to comprehend in its definition those who were engaged in stock gambling and speculation; and we set up this system, not as an adjunct of the Treasury Department, which has used it as a department, not to finance the public indebtedness of the United States, but to respond to the requirements of the tradesmen and of the industry and of the agricultural interests of this country, the agricultural interests who were engaged in the majority of its paper.

The first section of this bill transforms it from a system of that kind into a mere agency of the Treasury Department, to be dominated by the Secretary of Agriculture, and to be used, not for business purposes, but to enable the Government to float its term and time indebtedness.

Today the Federal Reserve System has a gold supply on the 40 per cent reserve basis that would enable it to expand its credits nearly $4,000,000,000. It has choked its portfolio with nearly $2,000,000,000 of Government bonds, practically by direction of the Secretary of the Treasury and the board here, not a dollar of which it required in its business.

It did that in a financial adventure upon the principle of the same Goldborough, which assumed that by an inflation of the currency the commodity prices of this country would be increased. It has today every dollar of those bonds without any use. It cannot dispose of them without utterly demoralizing the entire bond market of the United States; and yet here we have a proposition to accentuate that disastrous condition and further imperil the Reserve System by adding $3,000,000,000 of United States bonds to its portfolio.

What does that mean to the business interests of the country? It means that just in that measure the Federal Reserve Banks of the United States will be unable to accommodate their member banks and just in that measure their member banks will be unable to accommodate trade.

What It Means.

That is what it means. It does not mean inflation; it means deflation, and that was accomplished in that transaction, I may say to the limited credit of the Federal Reserve Board, and this was to release nearly $4,000,000,000 of real estate indebtedness from member banks to the Federal Reserve Banks with the vain idea that the Federal Reserve Banks thereupon would release credits to business, which they did not do and they are not doing, and there is nothing in this bill that compels them to do it, and there is nothing in any law that can compel member banks to loan the deposits of their depositors anybody for any purpose.

They made it permissible; and the distinguished Senator from Idaho (Borah) thinks that that does not mean impairment. If he could know, as I have, the influences at work that have led to this legislation, he would be appalled.

As I reported to the Senator from Pennsylvania the other day, we have gone beyond the cruel extremities of the French, and they made it a capital crime, punishable at the guillotine, for any tradesman or individual citizen of the realm to discriminate in favor of gold and against their printing press currency. We have gone beyond that. We have said that no man may have his gold, under penalty of 10 years in the penitentiary or $10,000 fine.

An expansion of the currency, Federal Reserve notes outstanding today exceed by nearly $3,000,000,000 the outstanding reserve notes issued in 1929, in those days of prosperity on paper, prosperity in the origins of the stock gamblers who have ruined this country. Yet we have not been willing to pass a single bill that the Congress of the United States deserves and effectively framed to avert a repetition of that sort of thing. If there were need to go off the gold standard, very well, I would say let us go off the gold standard; but there has been no need for that. If there were need for currency expansion, I would say let us expand, though I fail to comprehend how much better off we are with the which all purchases now cost the $1 which he had yesterday.

Least Objectional Part.

Very likely I shall surprise some of my colleagues by the statement that the least objectionable feature of the bill is the so-called greenback feature. It is the most defendable feature of the bill. It is, perhaps, the only feature of the bill that will yet get any so-called money in circulation above that now in circulation.

It means simply to transform time obligations of the United States, bearing interest, into demand obligations of the United States, and those who hold to the gold standard have said to you that it would wipe out every dollar of the reserve gold in the United States treasury overnight and it would if people would demand redemption.

But experience over a long period of years has determined that even less than 4 per cent is required to meet the redemption demands in ordinary times, lest people should be unpatriotic enough to raid their own Treasury; and this feature of the bill provides a 4 per cent redemption fund for the retirement of those greenbacks.

While I do not advocate that section of the bill, I again say it is the most defensible provision of the bill. I do not advocate it primarily because the Federal Reserve System is now, with its gold reserve, prepared to expand to the extent of $1,000,000,000 more than the proposed $3,000,000,000 of greenbacks and because business is not being treated the way it does not expand and because confidence has not yet been restored that does not expand; and we are here doing anything to restore confidence?

"We Are Destroying Credit." Why, we have literally destroyed the mortgage bond market of this country. The Federal Land Banks, with all the millions of assistance the Government has given them, cannot sell their except bonds today—not to save their life. There is no market for them. We have destroyed the mortgage bond market.

We are proceeding upon the assumption that nobody hereafter will desire credit; that farmers hereafter will not want credit or need it because we are destroying credit and largely have done so. No man outside of a lunatic asy-

FIVE MEN INDICTED FOR SECURITIES FRAUD

Officers of Kansas City Firm Named on Mails Charge in Alleged $425,000 Loss.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 28.—Five officers of the Universal Bond & Mortgage Co. here were indicted yesterday by a Federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to use the mails to defraud.

The Star says "according to evidence understood to have been placed before the grand jury, fraudulent sales of bonds, stocks and securities through the Universal company approximated $425,000."

The indictment named Allen Mansfield Jr., president; Guy R. Mansfield and Julius R. Waldstein, vice-presidents; Frank B. Mansfield, secretary and treasurer; and Wilber J. Mansfield, advisory board member. The company, now in receivership, was organized in 1928 by members of the Mansfield family of Ottawa, Kan.

Company officers were charged in the indictment with representing to investors that their securities had been endorsed by Charles Curtis, then Vice-President, and Senator Arthur Capper.

Another indictment, charging counterfeiting, was returned against Virgil Arnold, Sherman Wright, William A. Ross and John Daugherty, said by William Davenport of the United States Secret Service, to have operated a counterfeiting ring at Joplin, Mo. Davenport told the jury he had seized a complete counterfeiting equipment from the men and found on their persons a quantity of counterfeit $5 Federal Reserve notes.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—Fire destroyed the three-story Fremont School building, caused by several persons and damaged 24 structures in the vicinity as sparks were whirled about by a strong wind yesterday. Roof blazes occurring through the district handicapped firemen in their fight at the school.

The fire was caused, authorities said, by blow torches which painters were using on the outside walls.

Every available piece of fire apparatus in the city was called out. Pupils had been dismissed for the day, but several teachers were still in the building. All fled to safety.

California Earthquake Records Show Just How the Ground Rocked

Data Compiled From Special Machines Placed in Advance of March 10 Shocks Suggest New Ideas for Builders.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Newly found secrets of earthquakes, expected to aid construction of quake-proof buildings, were reported yesterday to a gathering of experts.

The secrets have been translated from records of special machines the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey placed in California in advance of the shocks.

Frank Neumann of the Coast Survey interpreted the records to the American Geophysical Union so and the Seismological Society of America.

The records show, Neumann said, that there was a very strong up-and-down, or vertical motion of the ground at Long Beach, Cal., during the March 10 earthquake, as well as a sideways, or horizontal motion. There were two distinct vertical motions, one a slow rise and fall of the ground, the other a rapid up-and-down movement. It is likely, he said, that the rapid shakes crumbled the mortar between the bricks of buildings, so that the walls were more easily shaken down by later, slower "out of tune" and so suffer less damage.

The records suggested that engineers must strengthen buildings against the horizontal motion of earthquakes as well as against the vertical motion, which up to now had been considered the more important. The vertical motion was found comparable to the horizontal in intensity.

The ground moved in almost every direction before the earthquake was over, it was found, with the movement becoming increasingly complex the longer the shock lasted.

How different kinds of ground swayed with the earthquake also was shown by the records. It was known that buildings on rock usually are safer than those on soft soil, but the California records give the first indication of just how each kind of ground sways.

The worst damage to tall buildings comes when the building and the ground sway "out of tune." Knowing that the ground moves, an engineer now can design a building that will sway, instead of a building that will shake down by later, slower "out of tune" and so suffer less damage.

Soft soil under some parts of Los Angeles swayed much more than nearby rock formations, with resulting increased damage, and tall buildings may be safer near the center of a quake than away from it, because earthquake waves away from the center move more slowly and so are more likely to be "in tune" with the comparative slow sway of such a building.

General damage usually is greater near the earthquake center, however, because force of the earth waves becomes less intense as they spread out, while horizontal motions of earthquakes do most of the damage away from the center.

Plan for Democratic Caucus Held
Up to Get View of Presi-

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Speaker Rainey and Representative Byrns of Tennessee, the Democratic leader, plan to discuss with President Roosevelt the demands of many House Democrats for cash payment of the bonus in order to ascertain the chief executive's attitude. The visit is to be made at the President's convenience.

The Democratic House leaders told Representative Patman (Dem.) of Texas, leader of the cash bonus advocates, that they would discuss the proposal with the President if bonus demands were withheld for the present.

The bonus advocates yesterday withdrew their plan to force a Democratic caucus Monday night to await word of the President's views.

SCOTTSBORO NEGROES
IN OUTBREAK IN JAIL

Threaten Guards with Improvised Clubs—But Are Quickly Subdued

By the Associated Press.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 28.—An outbreak by the nine Negroes held in the Scottsboro case was put down quickly yesterday by county jail officials. The men were on a bread and water diet today. Later the Negroes promised to cause no more trouble and were returned to their cells.

The Negroes had been put in the jail's "day room" for exercise. As Warden Erwin approached to take the men back to their cells, they refused to move and threatened their guards with clubs improvised from water pipes and light fixtures. The Negroes sent out a cardboard on which they printed a demand for the "Southern boys" and demands for "better treatment."

Sheriff Hawkins joined the Warden and other jail attaches but although two or three of the Negroes agreed to lay down their weapons, others shouted, "We'll die first!" and one cried out, "We will die for the United States Supreme Court and settle everything."

Sheriff Hawkins joined the Warden and other jail attaches but although two or three of the Negroes agreed to lay down their weapons, others shouted, "We'll die first!" and one cried out, "We will die for the United States Supreme Court and settle everything."

Warden Erwin said printed matter and letters "from Communists and sympathizers" had streamed into the jail since the trial at Decatur. Thousands of protests on the sentences have been made to state officials.

Sheriff Hawkins already had asked Gov. Miller for authority to transfer the Negroes to Kilby prison, where they were confined during the time their first appeals to the Alabama Supreme Court and the United States Supreme Court were pending.

The Negroes, Patterson, Roy and Avery Wright, Eddie Williams, Ocie Powell, Charlie Wiggins, Clarence Norris, Olen Montgomery and Willie Robertson, were arrested at Paint Rock, Ala., March 25, 1931, and were charged with attacking two white women aboard a freight train.

All except Roy Wright were convicted in Jackson County in April, 1931, and sentenced to death. The Alabama Supreme Court reversed the death sentence for Williams on the ground that he was a juvenile. The United States Supreme Court reversed the others on the ground that the defendants were not properly represented by counsel. A mistrial occurred in Wright's case. A change of venue was granted to Morgan County and the trials set for Decatur. After Patterson was convicted, Judge James E. Horton postponed the other trials indefinitely because of a statement attributed to Samuel S. Leibowitz of New York, chief of defense counsel.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt yesterday presented the Red Cross roll call honor flag won by the State of Montana to Senator John E. Erickson of that State, in the closing session of the annual Red Cross convention.

Mrs. Roosevelt said she wished to express to the "hundreds of thousands of American women who have been making millions of garments for the Government" for the unemployed, and to all others who have worked in the various Red Cross volunteer services, a very deep and sincere appreciation of the great assistance they have rendered."

ADMIRAL MOFFETT'S WIDOW
ON PLANE TRIP TO COAST

Strong Believes in Aviation in Spite of Husband's Death on Akron

CHICAGO, April 28.—Loyalty to her late husband's conviction was expressed by Mrs. William A. Moffett during an overnight stop on a transcontinental airplane trip when she told a reporter that "it's much safer up there than down here on earth."

Mrs. Moffett is the widow of Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics who was one of the victims of the Akron disaster April 4. When asked her opinion of the future of lighter than aircraft she replied it was something she couldn't speak of.

"It was a sacred subject in our family," she declared. "Daddy always—the Admiral always had the greatest confidence in it. Oh, I hope they won't abandon it—they mustn't."

Mrs. Moffett, in company with

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

one of her sons, Ensign William

Moffett, 22 years old, planned to continue her trip from the East coast to California today to visit her daughter, Mrs. Janet Moffett Moore, of Catalina Island.

And when she reached Washington about June 1, she said she planned to make a trip in the Macon, newest of the navy's dirigibles. She said she christened the ship and had planned to be aboard on its first flight.

"But that was the day the Admiral was buried," she said.

Officers Raid Bungalow
Near Collinsville, Find
Three Truck Loads of Merchandise.

St. Louis detectives last night led a raid on a bungalow near Collinsville, seizing three truck loads of merchandise stolen in recent highway and store robberies and arresting three men at the place. The value of the recovered loot was estimated at $30,000. A large quantity of firearms was confiscated.

Leaving a squad at the bungalow, some of the raiders exchanged shots with five men in an automobile who they believed to be robbers using the house as a base of operations. Traveling in three cars, the police were searching for the robbers when they saw an automobile drawing up to the curb at Twelfth street and St. Louis avenue, in East St. Louis.

As the police approached, the car pulled from the curb, the driver ignoring commands to halt. State patrolmen leaped to the sidewalk and emptied his revolver after it. The men returned the fire, the police replying with sub-machine gun bullets, chasing the car for nine blocks before it turned on Third street and eluded them.

Several Thought Wounded.
Detectives Lieutenant Wren and Ising, who led a squad of six detectives, telephoned Chief of Police Gerk that they believed several of the men to have been wounded. None of the police were hurt.

Bribery Charges.

Seven members of the jury which acquitted Paul A. Richards, lawyer of the charge of kidnapping for ransom, appeared this afternoon in response to summonses issued for them by the grand jury, as witnesses in its inquiry into alleged jury-bribery in the second Richards trial, last May.

Four of the 12 Richards jurors were arrested Tuesday and Wednesday. The arrests made $1000 each. In the cases of three of the four, the entry made against their names by the police was "suspected of bribery." The fourth was booked merely, "Hold for Circuit Attorney."

The fourth juror arrested furnished bond yesterday afternoon, after having been held nearly 24 hours. All four have declared positively that they knew of no bribery or attempt at bribery in the Richards case.

One and Two Sons Seized.
Arrested at the bungalow was a man who said he was Sam Digrilamo, 48 years old, and his two sons, Philip, 18, and Alexander, 19. The two youths, their mother and four young children were there when the raiders arrived, the father driving up in a truck a few moments later. A revolver was taken from him.

The raiders came from a recent series of holdups on Illinois roads in which merchandise trucks were held up and their drivers compelled to flee. Trucks driven by the robbers were used also in burglaries of warehouses and stock rooms both on the East Side and in St. Louis.

The police theory attributes the robbery to an organized gang which made its headquarters at the warehouse.

BEER BEHIND DIGNITY, NOT TO BE SOLD AT NIAGARA FALLS

State Commission Controlling Reservation Se Rules for Decency and Propriety.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., April 28.—Beer drinking is considered not in keeping with the "dignity of the fifth wonder of the world" and is prohibited in the park and the Niagara Falls Reservation, the State Commission controlling the falls and the parks on the American side decided yesterday at Albany.

"It would be against the dignity of the fifth wonder of the world to have beer sold and consumed near the falls," said Judge Alphonso A. T. Parker, chairman. "For decency and propriety we think it would be undesirable for us to allow the sale of beer, and I am not a prohibitionist either."

The commission has jurisdiction over Prospect Point and the park stretching back from the brink and the Niagara River, Goat Island, Luna Island and the Three Sister Islands.

Before prohibition beer was not sold on the reservation. In these days a hotel at Niagara Falls became famous as a temperance house because it served no alcoholic beverages on its premises.

MISSOURI UTILITY MEN OPPOSE
OPERATION OF SHOALS BY U. S.

Governor operation of Muscle Shoals was opposed yesterday at the twenty-seventh annual business conference of the Missouri Association of Public Utilities, which will close today at Hotel Jefferson.

TWO EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGES AGAINST KENNETH SHERIFF

Alleged to Be Short in His Accounts
as Township Tax Collector.

KENNETH, Mo., April 28.—Two embezzlement charges were filed here yesterday against Sheriff Albert Lane, alleging shortages of $3945 and $3326 respectively in his accounts while he was a township tax collector.

Arrested by Coroner T. J. Rigdon, the Sheriff's bond for appearance in the term of Circuit Court, Lane said he would not resign but would attempt to repay any proved shortage.

He is scheduled for trial at Jackson, Mo., on Wednesday, when the State will attempt to collect on his bond posted as Collector, in connection with a shortage of $3326 allegedly due on a settlement made in April, 1931.

Sheriff Lane recently captured two bank robbers and has $300 reward coming for the job.

STEEL HELMET TURNS FORCES OVER TO HITLER

Labor Minister, Resigning
Leadership of Veterans
Organization, Also Says
He Has Become Nazi.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, April 28.—Announcement has been made by Labor Minister Franz Seldte that he has turned over command of the Steel Helmets, a war veterans' organization, to Chancellor Hitler. Hitler already commands the storm troopers of the National Socialists, numbering 800,000.

The question is raised whether Seldte can deliver all or the greater part of his 1,500,000 followers to Hitler.

There is a possibility that veterans who fail to follow Seldte will be dissolved. Their leader said he would liberate those comrades who could not follow him.

Seldte announced also that he was leaving the Nationalist party and becoming a National Socialist. This is expected to assure him his place in the Cabinet if the predicted shake-up develops.

Secret Police Organized.

The organization of a secret police force in Prussia also is announced. Its functions are to be similar to those of the secret police in Soviet Russia. It will be directed, however, against bolshevism and other subversive forces.

One of its functions, an announcement said, would be to act as "press police." The secret police are expected to discover any possible references in newspapers "dangerous to the state" and arrest the persons responsible.

It is believed they will have the right to search mail and tap telephones.

The secrecy of the mails and the telephone was abolished by an emergency decree setting aside constitutional rights on Feb. 28, following the mysterious Reichstag burning.

Other states of the Reich are expected to organize similar secret organizations. The Prussian force will be under the direction of Capt. Hermann Goering, German Cabinet Minister and Premier of Prussia.

In turning the war veterans' organization over to Hitler, who was a Corporal in the army, Seldte said, "Opponents are impossible at present, as are also-rans."

He said Hitler was "leader of the German future."

It is reported that President von Hindenburg, honorary president of the veterans' group, approved the merger.

Blow to Hohenzollers.

The movement for restoration of the Hohenzollers to the throne, which found its chief support in the Steel Helmet organization, is expected to receive a serious setback as a result of the consolidation. It is known that Hitler regards the movement as inadvisable for some time at least and it has been suggested that a division between the National Socialists and Nationalists, who advocate it.

Negotiations to combine the National Socialists and Steel Helmets have been under way for some time. They began after the National Socialists locked up 1200 Steel Helmets in Brunswick, charging the latter with inciting a counter-revolution. The Steel Helmet leaders replied that the National Socialists merely "lost their nerve" because the Steel Helmets were enrolling disbanding Reichsbanner members.

Since the Republican uniformed political organizations have been disbanded, the Steel Helmet and storm troops were the only militant organizations of that type left in the country.

New Church Constitution.

Hermann Kipper, president of the German Evangelical Church Commission announced that Chancellor Hitler, who said war was deeply interested in the unification of the Evangelical Church, had told him the church's treaty rights would be fully respected.

He made this statement at a meeting of the commission. The commissioners agreed on the necessity of drafting a new church constitution in accordance with the new German spirit.

It is understood that Kipper's purpose is to bring the church into more intimate connection with daily life without making it subservient to political leadership.

Recently it was revealed the "monopoly of American and British oil firms" Germany is interested in continuing the German-Russian Petroleum company, a Commissioner who has been placed in charge of the enterprise said today.

NAVY, ARMY CHIEFS DISAGREE
ON REDUCTION OF FLIGHT PAY

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Approval of President Roosevelt's request for authority to reduce flight pay in the navy was given to the House Naval Committee by Rear Admiral F. B. Upham, chief of the Bureau of Navigation, yesterday.

Simultaneously it was disclosed Major-General B. D. Foulkes, chief of the Army Air Corps, opposed the same plan for the army in recent testimony before the House Military Committee.

The military group was reported also to have received yesterday from Alvin Brown, assistant to Director Lewis Douglas of the Budget, testimony that a limitation on the proposed grant of authority regarding freight pay and furloughing army officers probably would be acceptable.

Meanwhile, the army and navy economy program was received by the Appropriations Committee in its study of the independent office supply bill.

Chairman McSwain of the Military Committee said Foulkes had contended flight pay should be continued, if not at the present rate of 50 per cent of base pay, at some other rate fixed by law.

BALANCED S. BUDGET PROMISED BY DOUGLAS

Federal Director Says Nothing Is More Unfair than Uncontrolled Inflation.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, April 28.—Lewis W. Douglas, Federal budget director, pledged in an address last night that the national budget would be balanced, that the Government's credit would remain unimpaired, and that uncontrolled inflation would be protected.

He spoke before a dinner of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association. He called on the country to "have faith in the Government," on the ground that it has demonstrated complete control over its fiscal affairs.

Douglas asserted that newspapermen had the power to inform and called upon them to exercise it.

"It is important that you all have faith in the future," he said, "because any recovery depends on faith. There will be no recovery if we all have a fear of looking forward. Nothing is more conducive to defeat than fear."

"This task of balancing the budget is in process of accomplishment. I am sorry I can't say that it has been accomplished, but I can say that it will be accomplished, and when I say that I mean it."

"There are many ways in which this balancing of Federal expenditures and receipts can be expressed, such as employment and happy and contented homes."

"There could be nothing more unfair to the people as a whole to the war veterans, to holders of insurance policies and all others than budgetary or uncontrolled inflation. And for the treason of the credit of your Government and my Government must be kept unimpaired."

Other speakers included Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam and Charles E. Kettering, vice-president and research director of General Motors.

Leaders' Reported Acceptance of Act.

MANILA, April 28.—Reports from Washington that Manuel Quezon, Philippine political leader, was ready to accept the independence act threw confusion into legislative followers who have been campaigning for the act.

Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo, leader of the Filipino insurrection, announced postponement of his projected trip to the American capital. Aguinaldo said he would continue his campaign to win independence, but added that it would be a mistake to accept independence without official assurance the act would be amended "to meet the wishes of the Filipino people."

ACID THROWN IN STRIKE CLASH

NEW YORK, April 28.—Striking needleworkers yesterday seized two trucks, threw acid at the faces of the drivers and destroyed two shipments of shirts.

SLIGHT DROP IN CATHOLIC PROPAGATION OF FAITH FUND

Pope Told 1932 Total of $3,100,000
Was Only $50,000 Under
That for 1931.

VATICAN CITY, April 28.—World contributions to the fund for the propagation of the faith declined only slightly in 1932, as compared with 1931, despite the depression, Cardinal Rumeau-Bonelli, prefect of the congregation told Pope Pius yesterday.

A decline of about 20 per cent was registered in the United States, where $1,100,000 was contributed in 1931, but the reduction was made up elsewhere. The world total last year was only $50,000 under 1931 figures which aggregated $3,150,000.

TYPEWRITER MAN'S DAUGHTER DIVORCES STUART GAYNESS

Former Bernice Smith Charges Polo Player Spent Too Much Time With Other Men.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 28.—Mrs. Bernice Smith Gayness, daughter of Burns Lyman Smith, president of L. C. Smith Typewriter Co., yesterday obtained a divorce from Stuart Gayness of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Gayness, who married Gayness at Dryden, N. Y., in April, 1930, testified in Superior Court he "spent too much time with other men and neglected her." They separated about 18 months ago, and have no children. Gayness, a polo player, formerly was in the bond and securities business in New York.

ANNUAL CITY MISSION RALLY

The second annual city mission rally sponsored by the St. Louis Baptist Mission Board will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington boulevards. Dr. G. Oscar Johnson, pastor of the church, will preach the sermon on "The Challenge of the City."

HOME MORTGAGE MEASURE PASSES HOUSE, 383 TO 4

No Material Changes in Plan Submitted by President — Cochran's Cash Proposal Rejected.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The administration's $2,000,000,000 home mortgage refinancing bill was passed today by the House without material changes. It now goes to the Senate.

The four voting against the bill were: Bailey and Terrell of Texas and Hoepel of California, Democrats; McFadden of Pennsylvania, Republican.

The bill passed 383 to 4.

Altogether, Republicans, conservative Democrats, succeeded in defeating an amendment by representative Cochran (Dem., Missouri) to authorize direct cash loans to home owners instead of refinancing through bond issues. The teller vote was 133 to 78.

Opponents of this amendment said it would wreck the bill and make it impossible to become law. They contended that the $22,000,000 of outstanding home mortgage indebtedness would be unloaded on the Government.

Representative Wolcott (Rep., Michigan) to permit the home owner loan corporation, created under the measure, to pay cash for unpaid balances on homes on which foreclosure is threatened and mortgagees refuse to accept bonds, however was approved. The amount of cash advanced was limited to 30 per cent of the appraised value of the property. This was the most important change.

Many amendments to increase the amount of appraised value of homes on which loans may be advanced were defeated. The House approved the original provision that loans be limited to $10,000 on homes with an appraised value of not more than $15,000 and that in no case may they be greater than 80 per cent of the appraised value.

The bill repeats the direct loan provision under the home loan act of 1932, but appropriates $200,000 for the capital of the Home Owners' Loan Association to be organized by the Home Loan Bank Board. This association is allowed to issue two billion dollars in 18 year bonds, of which the interest of not exceeding 5 per cent is guaranteed by the Government. Loans are to be made at 4 per cent interest.

INCORPORATED here in 1927 as the Yale Electric Corporation, the concern has plants in New Jersey and New York and warehouses in California and Illinois.

MISSOURI UTILITY EXECUTIVES HOLDING CONFERENCE HERE

McFadden, Oklahoma City director of the Oklahoma Utilities Association, who presented statistics on Oklahoma towns to indicate that where municipal ownership of light plants was sold to have cut taxes and power costs, the accounting was "inadequate, incompetent and sometimes illegal."

Minnesota Executive Asks President to Give Him Audience About Nine-Foot Channel.

By the Associated Press.
ST. PAUL, Minn., April 28.—Gov. Floyd B. Olson asked President Roosevelt yesterday to give him and other officials of this district a hearing before work on the upper Mississippi River nine-foot channel is curtailed.

Repeating that channel development would relieve unemployment and provide cheaper freight rates, Gov.

RANK (LEFT) O'DOUL of the Brooklyn Dodgers won the National League batting championship in 1932, but you'd never know it from his stick work so far this season.

Through seven consecutive games O'Doul has gone to the plate 27 times without making a hit.

By the Associated Press.
The boys who follow National League developments are beginning to suspect that Bill Terry, manager of the New York Giants, has something up his sleeve besides a broken wrist. And that something seems to be unexpected pitching power that he can summon forth almost every day.

When they started the season, the Giants looked no stronger than the team which finished last for six seasons—now, when, with Freddy Lindstrom gone, the untried Bloody Ryan at short and the pitching staff apparently no stronger. But even with Sam Leslie playing first, the Giants have touched the top of the National League standing.

Terry has found one great weapon in his star southpaw, Carl Hubbell, who has allowed only one run in 32-3 innings this season. In the last two games, the Giants have demonstrated that Hal Schumacher could pitch a five-hit game; that Leroy Parnell could come through with a one-hit performance, and finally that Ray Starr, the ex-Cardin, can do some effective hurling.

Except for some wildness, Starr pitched six good innings against the Phillies, allowing only four hits before he retired for pinch hitter and Hubbell came in for three scoreless innings to give the third victory as the Giants opened up with a three-run outburst in the eighth inning, won 5 to 2, and climbed into first place.

TRIPLE A OPENS TENNIS SEASON TOMORROW

The Triple A Club will open its tennis season tomorrow with a two-day feature program, free to the public. A team match between the leading Triple A stars and the Washington University tennis team will be held tomorrow afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock. Karl Hodge will lead the Triple A squad with Captain Eddie Davis in charge of the Bears' team.

On Sunday afternoon special exhibition matches by leading district stars will be played. The schedule as announced by Dr. T. R. Hollingshead, chairman of the Triple A Tennis Committee, will bring Wray Brown against Isaac H. Macy, local pro star, in a feature singles contest. Hodge will meet Gus Boehmer, who should also be interesting. Hodge recently won the district indoor singles title. Following the Brown-Macy singles encounter a mixed doubles match will be played. Miss Alta Davis, district indoor women's champion and Macy will oppose Mrs. Violet Furions and Hodge.

Hodge also announced that a limited number of junior tennis stars would be admitted to membership in the club for an annual fee of $10.

The score now stands, Beaumont 99½, McKinley 54½.

"Ross Not as Hard to Fight as Benny Bass," Joe Ghouly Says

St. Louis Boxer, Matched With Canzoneri's Challenger, Has Watched Chicago Lightweight Train and Knows His Style.

By W. J. McGoogan.

No matter how many boxing followers believe that Joe Ghouly, clever South St. Louis lightweight, will prove easy meat for Barney Ross at the Arena next Wednesday night, Joe has one ardent follower who believes he will defeat the Chicagoan. The a. f. is Joe, himself.

Ghouly has had a bout since he lost a 10-round decision to Benny Bass at the same place, April 4. This bout, incidentally, although held during the bank holiday, drew the biggest "gate" of all the seven shows promoted by Tippett.

Following the Bass encounter, Joe went to Hot Springs for a week of rest and recuperation. Since he returned home he has taken things easy doing no work until he had word that the match with Ross was made when he immediately began preparations.

Training Easy for Joe. It is just 21 years of age, to get ready. He always keeps himself physically fit so all he has to do is sharpen up his eye with a little boxing and he is ready to go.

The first thing Joe did was to go to the South Broadway, G. and work a few nights to get accustomed to boxing under the lights. Then he began a bit of road work each morning and started to work in the afternoons at the National Gymnasium.

Mique Malloy, Chicago promoter, has petitioned the Illinois Commission for the right to hold nightly boxing shows in Chicago during the World's Fair. Mique thinks he will get all the boxers necessary for such an ambitious program is a mystery, unless he plans to hold one bout each night.

Training Easy for Joe. It is just 21 years of age, to get ready. He always keeps himself physically fit so all he has to do is sharpen up his eye with a little boxing and he is ready to go.

The first thing Joe did was to go to the South Broadway, G. and work a few nights to get accustomed to boxing under the lights. Then he began a bit of road work each morning and started to work in the afternoons at the National Gymnasium.

Yesterday he boxed with Joey Forchione, a flashy little bantam from Canton, O., who is in St. Louis looking for a few fights and may be accommodated on Wednesday's card. Ghouly beat the three-round bout, as fast worker he gave Joe plenty of practice in finding a target with his punches.

But Ghouly felt good and he looked it in the ring.

"I don't think Ross is as hard a man to fight as Bass" said Joe following the practice session. "I guess I looked bad against Bass but after I get past Ross I would like another chance at Benny for I feel sure I can beat him."

"I fought cautiously, as I was told. But again, Ross I won't have to worry so much about straight punches as against Bass."

Bass Tried a Bluff. "Benny tried to scare me in the fourth round of our fight when he hit me with a hard right hand punch. 'I'm going to knock you out,' he said, but I told him 'no you won't, you can't hit me again.' And he did. I told the crowd 'Bass was very tired and I knew it.'

"I have never seen Ross fight, but I have seen him train. I know he is good, all right, but I beat Roger Bernard and Bernard out-pointed Ross, so I don't think I have as much to worry about."

Ross' sparring partner, Davy Day, will oppose Carl Schaefer on one of the first seven cards on the card, Tippett announced today.

There will be the 10-pound event, four six-rounders, a four-round and the inevitable "battle

PAGE 4B ASSEMBLY PASSES BILL TO BREAK TAX STRIKE IN CHICAGO

Measure Designed to Force
Collections Approved by Illinois Senate and Sent to Governor.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—A new hope for financial relief went out to Chicago's thousands of unpaid school teachers as a result of action today by the Illinois General Assembly.

The Senate passed and sent to Gov. Horner for his signature, a House bill designed to force delinquent tax collections in Chicago and thereby break a tax strike which has been regarded as one of the main stumbling blocks in the city's road back to financial stability. The measure, known as the Skaggs bill, gives the Cook County treasurer the authority to appoint receivers for properties on which taxes are delinquent and to collect incomes therefrom.

It was championed by Mayor Edward Kelly of Chicago, who was present when the Upper House passed it by a vote of 44 to two. The Cook County treasurer, Joseph McDonough, also in the Senate at the time, said he would put its provisions into effect next Monday. The measure's approval by the Governor today was regarded as certain.

Although he made no statement, the Mayor had previously indicated his belief that the bill would do much to put Chicago back on its feet financially. An opposite view, however, was taken by State Senator Earl Searcy of Springfield.

Teachers' Leaders Refuse Luncheon
Invitation of Bankers.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 28.—Six leaders of the city's teachers decided to break bread with six of Chicago's bankers who had invited them to an exclusive club to explain why they could not advance more money for school pay rolls. The teachers said they feared they would be under obligations if they took luncheon with the bankers.

Covers were laid for a private dining room at the Union League Club. The bankers sat down. They were Charles G. Dawes, chairman of the City National Bank; Solomon A. Smith, president of the Northern Trust; Melvin A. Traynor, president of the First National; Howard T. Fenton, president, and Frank McNair, vice-president of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank; and James R. Leavell, president of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co.

Their soup cooled. They munched rolls for 20 minutes. Then a rap on the door, and two of the invited guests walked in. Howard Smith and Milton Rayner, emissaries from the school teachers. Rayner is a teacher, Smith a principal. "We are sorry we can't have luncheon with you," said the bankers. "We are going back to the City Club where our full committee awaits us and plans to eat lunch."

Education Group Urged to Cancel Convention in Chicago.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 28.—As a protest against Chicago's failure to pay its school teachers, a group of educators, including Dr. John Dewey, has petitioned the National Education Association to cancel its convention in Chicago in July. Dr. Dewey, professor emeritus of Columbia University, is honorary president of the association.

The group in its petition to the association's executive committee, said:

"In view of the grievous injustice to Chicago children and teachers—it seems highly improper that the National Education Association should select Chicago as its meeting place. Civic leaders there have not failed to come to the aid of their banks. It is high time they showed equal concern for Chicago children and teachers."

FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1933
JAPANESE WANT
RUSSIAN RAILWAY
WITHOUT FIGHTING

Plan Seems to Be to Depress Price of Chinese Eastern and Buy It From Soviet.

(Copyright, 1933, by Associated Press.)

TOKIO, April 28.—Japan hopes eventually to secure control of the Chinese Eastern Railway and eliminate the influence of Soviet Russia in Northern Manchukuo but is confident that it will be unnecessary to fight a war for the road.

It may take two or three years and may be done directly or through the Government of Manchukuo.

This is not the formally acknowledged policy of the Tokio Government but it summarizes the formal admission of official sources.

The authoritative consensus is that an armed conflict arising from the present bickering of Russia and Manchukuo over rolling stock and details of railroad management is highly improbable.

Authoritative non-Japanese sources here interpret this bickering as a phase of what probably will be a protracted campaign calculated to depress Russia's price for surrender of the Soviet rights to the Chinese Eastern to the point where Japan and Manchukuo will be willing to buy or trade.

A War Office spokesman said: "Nothing serious is going to develop from the present tension."

He expressed the opinion that Soviet Russia is unprepared to attempt to oppose by force Manchukuo's hectoring as it did that of Marshal Chang Hsiao-Liang, the former Chinese war lord of Manchuria in 1929. Meanwhile, he added, Japan has no intention of using its army to back up Manchukuo, at least in the present phase of the dispute.

Troop Not Concentrated.

An Associated Press check-up in Tokio, Changchun and Harbin showed that reports of Japanese troop concentrations on the Manchurian frontier were baseless. The Tokio War Office asserted it was ignorant of any hostile Soviet disposition on the Siberian side of the border.

It was pointed out that three brigades, normally a part of the Japanese garrisons of North Manchuria, went south in January and February to participate in the Jehol campaign and still are in the great wall of China district. There were no signs pointing to their early return northward.

No Japanese troops were stationed at present in Manchukuo, the western extremity of the Chinese Eastern Railway on the Soviet border. One cavalry squadron recently was withdrawn from there to Harbin, leaving Manchukuo's Mongol levies to patrol the border.

The Japanese command is admittedly anxious for the return of the brigades under Major General Kuroda Tsuruji, the Hsien-Hsien-tai shortly to the railway zone, not because of a Soviet menace but because they are needed to cope with a revival of banditry already evident and expected to intensify when the growing crops in June provide new cover for marauders. These troops now are engaged in a campaign against the Chinese south of Shanhalkwan and Lengkow in the great wall of China."

Hopes to Lower Price.

Japanese officials informally admitted to the Associated Press that the Chinese Eastern is in the presence of thousands of Soviet citizens in North Manchuria. This action now presents an unwelcome obstacle to Japanese plans for the development and exploitation of Manchuria. Japanese are confident, however, that the elimination of this obstacle will be accomplished peacefully.

The Soviet Government admittedly is willing to sell and although Tokio officials publicly declared Japan is not interested in purchasing the railroad they privately admitted it will be ready to buy when the price is right. Japan is willing to wait, confident it holds the upper hand and that direct developments calculated to rapidly depress the seller's quotations.

Thus far the prospective seller and buyer are hundreds of millions of yen apart in price. Russia's reported offers range from the original cost of construction, 400,000,000 gold rubles (the gold ruble was worth about 50 cents to 100,000,000 yen). The price nominal equivalent to 25 cents).

Japanese officials call fantastic prices for a railroad whose strategic value to Russia already is destroyed as a result of Japan's conquest of North Manchuria and whose economic worth is steadily dwindling.

Among the factors on which Japan is most deeply interested, price foremost is the construction of new railways paralleling the commercially strong line of the Chinese Eastern. The Tuhuatumen line, recently completed, is the first and most vital part of this parallel system.

Another Line Being Built.

The new Kirin-Harbin railway, built by the Japanese, is designed to nullify the value of the Chinese Eastern's southern branch. Other factors are Manchukuo's continual harassing of the Russians in connection with the railway administration, making the latter's position increasingly untenable while well informed Japanese authorities are even disposed to credit Moscow's charges that the Japanese army is neglecting to police the eastern branch, permitting banditry to flourish in order to disrupt the line toward Vladivostok.

This Russian seaport formerly was the principal outlet of North Central Manchukuo's agricultural produce.

With the recent inspired insouciance, the Tokio Foreign Office disclaims responsibility for Manchukuo's hectoring tactics, although admitting Japanese subjects in Manchukuo's employ are directing the anti-Soviet campaign.

RAIL COORDINATION PLAN OPPOSED BY LABOR EXECUTIVES

Statement Issued Denouncing Bill Before Roosevelt to Suspend Anti-Trust Act.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 28.—A statement opposing the railroad legislation that has been drafted for transmission to Congress by President Roosevelt was issued today by the Railway Labor Executives' Association.

The statement, justification for drastic reductions of essential transportation service in order that unearned interest may be paid on idle capital," the statement says. It added that thousands of railway workers would be placed in the bread lines by such action. The measure, which would create a national commission to economies and rehabilitate the railroad system as well as repeal the anti-trust provisions relating to railroads for a year, is on President Roosevelt's desk.

Stands By Anti-Trust Laws.
"We do not believe that the American people will approve of such a bill. It is a repetition of other State and Federal laws enacted to protect the public interest merely in order to permit monopolized railroads to gather unjust and unearned profits," the statement continues.

"If we have reached the end of railroad competition we have arrived at the need for immediate control and direct public control. Communities, shippers, and employees threatened with irreparable losses, should be able to prevent the passage of such a law as now proposed.

"But at least the organized railway employees will do all within their power to have written into any new bill adequate protection for approximately 2,000,000 workers dependent for a livelihood upon the railroads and allied transportation services."

Opposed 'Deflating' Labor.
"We shall insist that unemployed workers be given more tender consideration than unemployed capital. We shall insist that this intolerable situation, with its entailing dire jobs and wages, determining the depression and steadily degrading the standards of American life, must stop."

"Those who assume responsibility for taking away employment must accept the obligation to provide employment or support for the men they force into idleness."

Roosevelt Program
The Roosevelt railroad program is expected to be sent to Congress shortly.

The bill would set up a Federal co-ordinator with broad powers to eliminate duplication of services of competing lines and to suspend service on nonoperating lines, to consolidate terminal activities, and to approve or disapprove railroad applications for loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Three co-ordinating committees would be appointed by the railroads to act in advisory capacities to the co-ordinator. One group of five would represent the Northern and Eastern systems, another the Southern systems and a third the Western and transcontinental lines from Chicago westward.

Although the co-ordinator would have power to carry into effect any economy he sees fit and to force railroads to squeeze water out of their stock by refusing to approve T. C. C. unless they revise their capitalization, his decisions would be subject to appeal to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The bill contains an additional provision for labor boards to consult with the co-ordinator. In this, the bill reserves the rights of collective bargaining by railroad labor but does not change the railway labor act on contracts entered into under that act.

The provision allowing suspension of the application of the anti-trust act to railroads is effective for one year, but by proclamation the President might extend this for another.

The measure was drafted by Secretary Roger and Woodrow Senator Dill (Dem.), Washington, Dr. W. M. W. Spawlin, railroad expert; Commissioner Eastman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and Chairman Rayburn of the House Interstate Commerce Committee.

INQUIRY ON DELAY IN PROSECUTION OF

J. W. HARRIMAN
Costigan, First Senate Witness, Says Whole Episode
Is 'Tainted with Official Dilatoriness.'

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 25—Opening the Senate inquiry into delay in prosecution of Joseph W. Harriman, New York banker, Senator Costigan (Dem., Colorado), said today "the whole episode appears to be tainted with official dilatoriness."

Costigan, who introduced the resolution calling for the investigation, was the first witness before the Judiciary subcommittee designated to conduct it.

He said as a consequence of delay in prosecuting Harriman and other officers of the Harriman National Bank & Trust Co., it appeared "substantial losses have been suffered by depositors."

"The precedent thus set, apparently in part by the Department of Justice under a former administration, is too grave in its legal and moral implications and ramifications to be disregarded, unless public reasons not yet disclosed may be invoked to shield from censure those who withheld from prosecution and whose official action or inaction trapped the public into the losses of misguided confidence."

Costigan called for a full investigation of the case and summoning of all public officials cognizant with the facts, including George Z. Mead, District Attorney at New York, who said prosecution of Harriman was delayed for months on direction of the Justice Department.

Costigan cited charges that Harriman had misappropriated $1,000 from the bank's funds from 1929 to April, 1932.

POPULAR RULE FACES
NEW TEST, SAYS HULL

Declares Failure Now May Prevent Future Experiments in Democracy.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, April 28.—Secretary of State Hull, in an address made public yesterday at the State Department, said that democratic government was facing a test in the efforts now under way to restore world economic health.

The address was delivered at a recent luncheon of the American Foreign Service Officers Association.

"I remember that President Wilson remarked to me in 1923 that the world had been made safe for democracy," Hull recalled. "But he said that the great problem is whether democracy is going to be able to justify itself.

"Dictators have arisen in many countries. We ourselves have proceeded, for 12 years following the war, to abandon most of the ideas and ideals that actuated us during former periods and former generations. We became entirely materialistic...

"...and the wonderful standards of conduct to which we had been accustomed to adhere were departed from so that today nearly all the nations of the world, including our own, have no fundamentals, either political, moral or economic. The nations and their peoples everywhere are in a large sense prostrate without a definite program of ideas and ideals for the rehabilitation of their political, economic and other affairs.

"We have carried the experiment of self-government further than it has ever been carried in the history of the human race and yet it remains an experiment. If in this undertaking we should fail, if our civilization should be unable to cope with that age-old problem of self-government, I doubt if it will ever be undertaken again in the future.

"So we have the tremendous undertaking today of rebuilding more securely, along political and economic lines, our relationships with the other nations.

"There are tremendous opportunities to improve from an economic standpoint... I feel that we should not for a moment neglect the opportunities to continue to be from year to year a trading nation and a trading nation on an ever increasing scale.

REFLECTION-FIGHTING BIRDS
LACK CEREBRAL CORTEX

In Other Words, They Are Just Dumb, According to California Professor.

By the Associated Press. BERKELEY, Cal.—That window-fighting robin in Kansas City and his three cousins up in Portland, Ore., got that way "because they have very little cerebral cortex."

But even the Kansas City robin and the three Portlanders, reported as returning day after day to the same windows to do battle with their mirrored reflections, are only pokers.

The University of California here has a brown towhee, a member of the sparrow family, that has been shadow-bowing its reflection in a window of the University of Life Sciences Building for two seasons.

The towhee has not been heard about because the university scientists have been so interested they have declined to make a report until they know the reason for the bird's actions.

Dr. W. E. Ritter, professor emeritus of zoology at the university, in a lecture recently explained that birds have very little cerebral cortex, or frontal lobe development.

"Unlike higher mammals or humans," he said, "that possess more advanced brain structure, birds are unable to reason, discriminate or plan a course of action, but act instinctively or mechanically in response to stimuli. They lack the cerebral cortex, which is believed to be the basis of the reasoning faculty by many scientists."

"This interpretation of such performances as fighting their own reflections," he added, "marks a climax of years of study by specialists in neurology and brain physiology and the rest of the nervous system. 'This bird, being a pugnacious individual, may go on indefinitely fighting its image. Most higher mammals, including humans, with more extensive brain development in the frontal region, would reason that its efforts were being wasted and cease its activity."

SHIP CIRCLES ANTARCTICA TO GET WHALING INFORMATION

Data Gathered Expected to Be Worth Millions of Dollars to Industry.

CAPE TOWN—Information worth millions of dollars to the whaling industry has been gathered by the exploration ship Discovery II, in a year's cruise in the Antarctic.

The ship circumnavigated Antarctica and spent more than a month making a survey of the South Orkney Islands, which have not previously been accurately charted. A communiqué issued here when the ship landed stated:

"This is the first time any ship has made such cruises in the depths of winter. Never before have such comprehensive scientific observations been made on the waters and ice of the Antarctic Ocean.

"During the investigation, the scientists gathered information which is expected to be worth millions of dollars to the whaling in-

LARGEST BLIMP MAKES ITS FIRST TEST FLIGHT

Skipper of Army Craft Describes the Cruise as "Very Successful."

By the Associated Press.

AKRON, O., April 26.—The new Army airship TC-13, the largest non-rigid airship in the world, was aloft an hour and 42 minutes in its first test flight yesterday and won the praise of Maj. William E. Kepner, the skipper.

The big ship, intended for coast patrol operations with its base at Langley Field, Va., went up at 5:40 p. m., and landed at the Wingfoot Lake hangar at 7:20 p. m.

The TC-13 was designed by the Army Corps material division of Dayton, O., during the last year and represents the latest improvements in the design of non-rigid ships. It was built by the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation which also constructed the U. S. S. Akron, giant dirigible, and its sister ship, the Macon.

Sub-Cloud Observation Car.

Although the world's biggest non-rigid ship, the TC-13 is small compared with the Macon, also constructed by the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation which is 783 feet long, while the TC-13 is 200.

The Army's new ship carries a small sub-cloud observation car, colored so as to be almost invisible against a dark cloudy sky. This car can be lowered below clouds while the airship rides unseen above, held secure by cables. The observer can telephone to the crew.

The 40-foot control car is directly underneath the envelope—the big bag containing helium gas—instead of being suspended several feet below as has been the Army practice. The bottom of the car is shaped like a boat for sea landings.

Facilities for the preparation of meals in flight also have been made and there are complete accommodations for a crew of six for extended flights of four or five days.

The TC-13 is to be delivered to Langley Field, Va., where extensive tests will be conducted to determine its suitability for coast patrol operations.

To Make Four More Tests.

Maj. Kepner termed the flight the first of a series of five tests, "very successful," and praised the manner in which the blimp handled.

He said the fuel consumption at cruising speed was three or four gallons an hour less than had been anticipated and estimated the ship would be capable of the contract speed of 60 miles an hour.

The ship, more than twice the size of other non-rigid craft built here, cruised over Akron and vicinity at an average speed of 40 miles an hour, with eight others aboard besides Maj. Kepner.

The new blimp has five stabilizing surfaces instead of the customary four. Maj. Kepner said this might prove to be a slight improvement over the usual design.

JUDGE ORDERS PAROLE REVOKED

Springfield Man Said to Have Hit Five Cars While Driving.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 28.—John Aldridge of Springfield, Mo., placed on probation for two years following his conviction at Springfield in 1930 on liquor charges brought under the Federal Jones law, was sentenced to two years in the Leavenworth Federal prison yesterday by Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves, who ordered his parole revoked.

Judge Reeves was told by Dudley Houtz, Federal probation officer, that Aldridge drove a car in Springfield recently while apparently under the influence of a narcotic and struck five other cars, endangering lives and property. Houtz recommended revocation of Aldridge's parole. The fact that the two-year period of parole had elapsed made no difference in the right of the court to revoke the parole, for under the Jones "five-and-ten" law a parole remains effective during the period of the maximum sentence—five years—the Judge ruled.

ROOSTER HATCHES DUCK EGGS

Illinois Chicken Looking After Brood of Nine.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW BURNSIDE, Ill., April 28.—People here have been curiously watching a buff rock rooster in the flock of chickens owned by Mrs. Anna Mann. After three weeks of futile effort to keep the rooster off the hen's nest, Mrs. Mann procured a dozen duck eggs and put under him.

Four weeks later the eggs hatched and the rooster stood guard over a nest of ducklings, of which nine are living and being "mothered" by the rooster as capably as they would be by a hen.

HOUSE PASSES JURY PAY CUT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—Pay of state trial jurors would be cut from $2 to $1 a day and those in Cook County to $4 under a bill which passed the House Wednesday. Sponsored by Representative Luther B. Bratton, Kankakee Republican, it was sent to the Senate, 52 to 2.

The House also passed a bill permitting defendants to defend cases as a poor person, thus permitting them the same privilege now given plaintiffs without funds.

Obituaries 1934 Birthday.

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., April 28.—Mrs. Marie C. Phillips celebrated her 102d birthday Wednesday. She is in excellent health although her speech and sight are impaired. Mrs. Phillips was born in Vicksburg,

JOINT STATEMENT ON CONVERSATIONS

Definite Agreements Reserved for World Economic Conference,' It Says.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Educated Herrriot, former French Presser, departed for New York this afternoon en route to France, following a discussion of economic problems with President Roosevelt. Just before his departure the French Envoy and the President issued a joint statement.

Our conversations had as their object, and as their result as complete an understanding as possible between our two countries in regard to economic problems, the adoption of definite agreements being reserved for the world economic conference.

"At no moment has understanding been more necessary between France and the United States for the maintenance of peace, for progressive and simultaneous economic disengagement and the restoration of stable monetary conditions in an atmosphere of general security.

"We have noted with deep satisfaction that our two purposes at the head of the world and the objectives of the world economic conference.

Would Clear Way for Recovery.

"The Government of the United States and the French Government have been able already to announce their full agreement in regard to the necessity of a prompt meeting of this conference, the object of which must be to bring about a rapid revival of world activity and the raising of world prices by diminishing all sorts of impediments to international trade, such as tariffs, quotas and exchange restrictions, and by the re-establishment of a normal financial and monetary situation.

"We have examined in particular the manner in which commercial policies should develop for the purpose of promoting rather than restricting international trade.

"We have studied monetary problems for a co-ordination of central bank policies; the remedies which will be brought forward to attack the menacing problem of unemployment, the stagnation of business, the execution of programs of public works to be carried out by different Governments by such methods as are within their means; the effects of the depression on silver and the different methods proposed to improve its status.

"All Elements of One Problem."

"The questions which are before the world today are for the most part, in our opinion, intimately bound up with one another.

"They constitute the separate elements of a single problem, the sound and permanent solution of which should be sought in an international collaboration supplementing the indispensable domestic efforts of each country.

"The world-wide suffering of millions of unemployed without delay that this collaboration, which has so happily begun here, should be continued."

"Within a few hours the invitations will be issued and on certain points we have already brought our views much nearer to each other; an excellent way of proceeding which President Roosevelt has rightly advocated, while he launched new notions concerning the world government and security."

"Recent events have taught us a dreadful lesson, namely that the world can not without great risks, be diverted into water tight compartments.

"War Debts Discussed."

"Previously another joint statement by the President and Herrriot had been issued just before their final separation. It follows: 'The President has discussed with Mr. Herrriot the problem of international debts.'

"The President has set forth the entire situation from the American point of view and Herrriot has explained how the problem appears to the French Government and Parliament.

"This long exchange of views, which was of the most frank and friendly character, was for the purpose of reaching a clearer understanding of the realities of the situation and will undoubtedly help in determining the steps to be taken hereafter."

"It is the hope of the President and of Mr. Herrriot that these conversations, which have proved to be of value, may be continued in Paris and in Washington after Mr. Herrriot has had an opportunity to report to the French Government."

"The American Government probably will initiate a movement for world truce on tariff changes

Gold Clause in Inflation Bill
Raises Constitutional Question
As to Bonds Payable in Gold

More Than $70,000,000,000 of Such Securities
Now Outstanding—Test Case Likely if Roosevelt Bill Becomes Law.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 28.—When is a contract not a contract? This is the question that holders of "gold bonds" ostensibly payable in gold, are asking, now that it is illegal, under presidential proclamation, to pay out the yellow metal.

More than $70,000,000,000 gold bonds are outstanding at present in the United States, according to reliable estimates in Wall street. This total includes more than $11,000,000,000 of railroad and utility bonds, some $30,000,000 of corporate bonds, and an equal amount of government and municipal loans.

Under the terms of the indenture of the gold bonds, the principal and interest of the bond is payable in United States gold coin of the United Kingdom, and is paid by a British holder of one of its bonds when the company tendered depreciated pounds in payment.

The decision of Justice Farwell outlined a procedure which would seem plausible here under the same circumstances, it is contended. However, in England, there is no United States Constitution with its guarantee of the right to contract, and no Dartmouth College decision of a Supreme Court upholding the invalidity of that right.

The English jurist said in part:

"No doubt the parties to this contract contemplated, and it may be desired to obtain payment in one particular form in the contract, in my judgment, is a simple contract to secure payment of a sum of money, and if the defendants tendered the sum of money in question in whatever might happen to be legal tender at the date the payment was due, they have discharged their obligation, and they could not subsequently be successfully sued in a court of law."

"If the obligation be to pay 100 pounds and they tendered that sum, it would entail a suit by a gold bondholder who objected to being paid in paper dollars rather than gold on the ground that he suffered damages. It is expected here that such a case would be carried up to the Supreme Court for final review.

The problem has already provoked at least one concrete plan of action. It was learned today that such a case would be carried up to the Supreme Court for final review.

The problem has already provoked at least one concrete plan of action. It was learned today that the State of Maine had gone on record as the first State to municipal pendings the London economic conference, through the President's special ambassador—Norman H. Davis—at the meeting tomorrow in the British capital to prepare for the conference.

At 1:15 p.m., Herrriot bade President and Mrs. Roosevelt good-by on the front porch of the White House.

Just before the French representative stepped from his automobile, Mr. Roosevelt handed him an autographed picture of himself.

The French Ambassador and the group of French experts which accompanied Herrriot to Washington kissed Mrs. Roosevelt's hand, but Herrriot only shook hands warmly. Both the President and Herrriot were in gay humor. A crowd had gathered around the White House steps and applauded Herrriot as he drove away.

Herrriot Statement.

Before boarding his train, M. Herrriot issued a statement praising President Roosevelt and members of the American Government with whom he worked.

"I rejoice at what we have been able to achieve in such limited time," he said. "A week ago, we might well have wondered whether the world economic conference could meet at all and in the event of its meeting, at what date it would meet. Now we know for certain that it is to begin its work on the 12th of June."

"Within a few hours the invitations will be issued and on certain points we have already brought our views much nearer to each other; an excellent way of proceeding which President Roosevelt has rightly advocated, while he launched new notions concerning the world government and security."

"Recent events have taught us a dreadful lesson, namely that the world can not without great risks, be diverted into water tight compartments."

"In conclusion, our free and cordial exchange of views has led us together to record the will of our two countries to continue this collaboration and to seek to extend it to all other nations in order to assure the peoples of the world the opportunity to labor under conditions of real peace."

"War Debts Discussed."

"Previously another joint statement by the President and Herrriot had been issued just before their final separation. It follows: 'The President has discussed with Mr. Herrriot the problem of international debts.'

"The President has set forth the entire situation from the American point of view and Herrriot has explained how the problem appears to the French Government and Parliament."

"This long exchange of views, which was of the most frank and friendly character, was for the purpose of reaching a clearer understanding of the realities of the situation and will undoubtedly help in determining the steps to be taken hereafter."

"It is the hope of the President and of Mr. Herrriot that these conversations, which have proved to be of value, may be continued in Paris and in Washington after Mr. Herrriot has had an opportunity to report to the French Government."

"The American Government probably will initiate a movement for world truce on tariff changes and related questions of trade policy in which these two neighboring governments have an important and immediate concern."

Fears Inflation Bill.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: PERHAPS it is too soon to attempt to stem the tide of enthusiasm which is now sweeping over the country, yet there are certain facts which are not to be overlooked even in our present distress.

Old men will recall the agitation for "flat money" after the crisis of 1873; the effort of Bryan and his followers to restore "God's own ratio" of 16 to 1 by the free coining of silver after the crisis of 1893; the "assets currency" to keep pace with the demands of business and prevent crises, promised by the promoters of the reserve banking law. And even the young can recall the failings of the national banks, the Farm Board and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, after the crisis of 1929.

That we became prosperous notwithstanding the rejection of flat money and free coinage by the people; that the reserve banks did not prevent the crises of 1920 and 1929; that the Farm Board did not rescue the farmers, nor the Reconstruction Finance Corporation prevent the failure of thousands of banks, is a matter of record. We now know, at least half with enthusiasm, a wider experiment than any of these blunders of the past.

The bill now pending before Congress and suggested by the President not only transfers to the executive responsibilities vested by the Constitution in Congress, but gives the President power to attempt to do what Congress cannot do, namely, to regulate not only the "value" of money, but of course, also. No lesson of history has ever been able to perform such a task, although many have tried.

It is not high time that we who have been free, self-supporting and self-respecting citizens should pause and reflect before we surrender our liberties and responsibilities to any man, however willing he may be to accept such unfettered power?

Relativity's Practical Value.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

"INQUISITIVE" would like to know in what way Prof. Einstein's theory of relativity has benefited the world. If he has read history well, he will note that Sir Isaac Newton's theory of gravitation did not prove to be a benefactor to the world immediately, but some 200 years later, presto! we see airplanes and lighter-than-air craft as a common everyday occurrence. The construction of airplanes is based on the law of gravitation. For that matter, every invention is based on some natural law. As Sir Francis Bacon stated, one has to know the laws by which nature is governed before one can proceed to overcome nature.

Now, if Mr. "Inquisitive" will be a bit more patient, someone may put Prof. Einstein's theory of relativity to use.

From German's Point of View.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THE American press as a whole is doing much howling about the menace of Hitlerism in Germany, but who is to blame for that situation? Shortly before the close of the war, President Wilson premised the Germans equality with other countries if they would surrender. They did as requested, but the promised equality has never materialized, and the Germans are gradually being brought to the pitch where they are becoming dangerous. The majority of the Germans didn't want the World War and don't want another. They have been compelled to get justice, if they have to plunge Europe into another war to get it.

Among other things, they want their German territory returned by Poland and Czechoslovakia. They don't want their former Polish and Bohemian possessions, but they do want what is purely German territory, and the proper thing to do is to yield to their just demands instead of stupidly opposing them. Shall millions of our young men be slaughtered in another great war? It can be prevented. CHRISTIAN J. GERLING.

As to Municipal Golf Courses.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: REPLYING to the letter on free golf for the unemployed. The writer partly agrees.

However, what is more important to popularize our municipal golf courses is a proper conditioning of those courses and enforcement of a strict interpretation of the rules of golf. A golf course is a place to play golf. All other activities of a social or private nature should be relegated to the clubhouse.

Hundreds of golf players are daily driving 15 miles into the country to patronize private courses, because the links are in much better playing condition, rules are upheld and no frivolous nonsense is permitted.

The municipal golf courses have paid the city a high return in the past, and with proper conditioning and enforcement of rules, that more advanced players may get some real enjoyment out of their game, they will make one of the highest revenue producers the city controls.

THE ADVENTUROUS DOLLAR.

The dollar has now been on its own for nine days. The foreign exchanges are free to fluctuate, no longer held within the narrow limits fixed when the export of gold was permitted.

Considering the international significance of our recent monetary action, and the speculative hopes and fears that it engendered, the decline of the dollar on the exchanges has been small. On April 19, when it became certain that no further licenses for the export of gold would be granted, the quotations of the French franc, on the gold standard, rose about 8 per cent, and the pound rose proportionately. The following day, both the franc and the pound rose slightly, but since then there has been an upward trend in the quotation of foreign currencies, although there have been moderate day-to-day fluctuations. The price of a few internationally traded commodities, such as wheat, cotton, silver and silk, jumped with the rise in the price of foreign exchange, and the over-sensitive stock market responded, but there was no change in the great body of commodity prices.

What the future of the dollar will be, no one can foresee with certainty, but the relation between exchange rates and the domestic price situation seems clear. Exchange rates between countries are closely tied up with their internal price levels. As long as price relationships remain unchanged, exchange rates, even with the gold standard suspended, vary little except under the temporary influence of speculative operations. The expectation that a price increase will take place in the United States is largely responsible for the discount on the dollar. Providing there is no increase in general prices here, there is no reason that the dollar will depreciate further on the exchanges, or will even remain as low as it now is.

However, we cannot escape the fact that even a moderate increase in American prices, providing prices in other countries do not rise correspondingly, is almost certain to be accompanied by a further decrease in the value of the dollar in terms of francs, pounds and other foreign currencies. That is the price we must pay for our new freedom in cutting the dollar loose from gold and trying an experiment with controlled inflation. Unless we assume that any dollar not equal in value to the old figure of 23.22 grains of fine gold is unsound, a moderate depreciation in the quotation of the dollar should not be alarming; it is the normal thing to expect if prices here rise relative to prices abroad. Of course, the ideal would be to have prices in other countries, including those still on the gold standard, rise along with prices in the United States, thus giving us relief from the present price situation without having the dollar depreciate in terms of gold.

Our monetary policy should have two objectives: to see that domestic inflation is kept under strict control, and at the same time to facilitate in every way a rise in prices in gold standard countries. The adventure of the dollar abroad discloses the international aspect of our domestic problems. Likewise, the conversations with MacDonald and Herron in Washington, directed toward world co-operation on credit policies and efforts to raise prices, show the wide ramifications abroad that are necessarily linked with our situation at home. The world needs an international monetary standard.

FRANCE PREPARES TO PAY.

It is reported from Paris that Premier Deladier is preparing to remit the defaulted $15,000,000 interest payment due the United States last Dec. 15. So expect Herron, the man of honor and good will, to be vindicated in the losing fight he waged last winter and which cost him his official position. Calmer consideration has displaced "the tidal wave of public opinion" which, Herron explained, submerged Parliament and brought the decision to default. The French could not understand, he asserts in an "Address to Americans," published in the Commonwealth, why they should be refused the same treatment they had been importuned to grant to their own debtor, Germany. There is justice in this feeling, but Herron said, and still says, "Legally, the payment is due." No great nation can afford to repudiate a debt, and American tactics were largely responsible in the default.

President Roosevelt's intention to avoid this step if possible, and by adjustment of the sugar tariff to better Cuba's economic status. Mr. Welles has been in close touch with Cuban affairs. That is an essential qualification for an Ambassador just now, for Cuba is in critical condition as a result of economic conditions and political disaffection. The series of bombings, armed outbreaks and executions has led to demands in this country for intervention, which this country may legally do under Cuba's Constitution. It is obviously Mr. Roosevelt's intention to avoid this step if possible, and by adjustment of the sugar tariff to better Cuba's economic status. Mr. Welles will make a survey on his arrival in Cuba, and it is largely on his recommendations that the administration's Cuban policy will probably be based. He will bear a heavy responsibility, but his previous personal contacts and his intimate knowledge of Caribbean affairs indicate he will advise a judicious course.

MR. GREEN AGAINST THE FIELD.

President Green of the American Federation of Labor has come out against the minimum wage proposal, offered as a safeguarding amendment to the 30-hour-week bill. He fears, he says, the minimum scale would become the maximum, and would tend to lower living standards. In this position, Mr. Green takes a stand against the opinions of:

President Roosevelt, who indorses the plan and recently sent to 13 Governors a message urging their states to pass minimum wage laws for women and minors, in which he said such measures were "a great forward step against lowering wages, which constitutes a serious form of unfair competition against other employers, reduces the purchasing power of the workers and threatens the stability of industry."

Secretary Perkins, who says: "It has been the experience in states that the fixing of a bottom in the fall of wages has had the effect of raising the general level of wages, and the minimum wage has not tended to become the maximum wage."

Gov. Lehman of New York, who led the fight for the wage law in his State with the slogan, "No more starvation wages for women and children."

The National War Labor Board, which in 1918 declared for a "living wage" with "minimum rates which will insure the subsistence of the worker and his family in health and reasonable comfort."

Ex-Judge Holmes, who said the purpose of such laws was "to remove conditions leading to ill health, immorality and the deterioration of the race."

It should occur to Mr. Green that fixing a limit on wage reductions is far better than having no limit to control the exploiters of labor, and that minimum wage laws will improve the condition of workers, whether men or women, organized or unorganized.

INDIANA SHOWS MISSOURI.

Indiana has joined the growing number of states which have overhauled their governmental structure in the interest of economy and efficiency. Under the Indiana plan, now in operation, more than 150 boards, commissions and other agencies have been consolidated into eight departments. This has not only eliminated overlapping and otherwise unnecessary services, but has co-ordinated the various functions of government, so the Governor, through his department heads, can keep informed as to what is going on and why. According to the estimate of Gov. Paul V. McNutt, formerly law dean at Indiana University, the overhauling will save Indiana taxpayers $3,000,000 a year. Such news can only deepen the regret of Missourians seriously interested in the smooth functioning of state government that our own Legislature failed to open the way for governmental modernization in Missouri. The bill to authorize a comprehensive survey of Missouri State Government by specialists in political science would have been of infinite greater value than the several piecemeal consolidations achieved. Eventually, Missouri will do what Indiana and other states have done. The thing is that wide benefits are denied us meanwhile.

As it will be. The priceless attribute of beauty, which has been wantonly flouted will presently adorn our money. The ineffable genius of woman's hand will bestow upon our sordid pelf the elegance, the allure, the radiance and charm of her own desirability. As Director of the Mint, Mrs. Ross will be privileged to make money lovely and, let us hope, again fashionable.

USING THE OPEN DOOR AS AN ECONOMIC CLUB.

Thus far, the only nation that has recognized the new puppet state of Manchukuo is Japan, its creator. The remainder of the world, appalled by the ruthlessness of the Japanese conquest of Manchuria, ignores Manchukuo's existence. Stung by its inglorious isolation, Manchukuo, through a Japanese member of its Privy Council, now undertakes to use the economic club to induce recognition, declaring that the historic Open Door will be slammed shut in the faces of all countries which withhold recognition.

The Open Door policy, giving all nations equal right to trade in the Orient, was first formulated by Secretary Hay in 1899. It has been confirmed on numerous occasions since. Japan pledged herself to it in the Root-Takahira agreement of 1908 and in the Lansing-Ishii agreement of 1917. The policy was formally adopted in the Nine-Power Treaty of 1922, signed by all of the principal Powers interested in China, including Japan.

NEMESIS IN MISSOURI.

TODAY and TOMORROW

By Walter Lippmann

The Present Basis of Peace

LONG with the important economic developments of the past two months there have been far-reaching developments in the field of international politics. These have been precipitated by the Nazi revolution in Germany. The effects are now sufficiently clear to make it evident that we are in a new period of the post-war diplomacy.

In the years which lay between the signing of the Treaty of Versailles and the rise of Hitler there was a painfully slow but steadily more effective movement to revise the follies and the injustices imposed upon Germany and her allies. The partition of Germany territory was terminated. That sentiment had come from the liberally-minded men in all countries, from the anti-militarists, from those who vote and work for reforms which they hope will make the relations of men more just, will protect the weak, will heal the wounded and lift up those who have fallen. The Nazis have turned these people against war.

The spirit of the German Nazis ended all possibility of a pacific revision of frontiers. This is the fundamental fact in the present situation. The basis of the world premise from which all plans for peace must start.

For not a voice of any consequence will be raised in any democratic country to suggest that peace can be advanced by placing another human being under the heel of the Nazis. That being the case, there can be no revision of frontiers except by force, and therefore the cause of peace is now dependent upon the maintenance of the status quo.

This should be realized in the discussions of disarmament. The choice has become pacifist or imperialist. The only kind of peace now possible in Europe is one which frees the existing frontiers. The only alternative to such a peace is a general war. The kind of peace which until recently men looked forward to, under which there was gradual revision of frontiers, is now impossible.

Belief that there must be some revision of frontiers before Europe could become stabilized had been accepted as the premise of the policy of all the principal governments, except France and her allies. France, guaranteed the Franco-German frontier, refused to guarantee the Polish-German frontier. The Italian Government, for reasons of its own as well as for territorial reasons, was openly in favor of territorial revision.

Neutral opinion in Europe was virtually unanimous in supporting revision. American opinion and American policy moved in the same direction, and at the time of Mr. Laval's visit to Washington in the autumn of 1931, Senator Borah, then chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, gave an interview to the French press in which he made it clear that the United States could not co-operate in the organization of peace if peace meant the right maintenance of the existing frontiers. This interview was a blinding indiscretion which probably revealed what the responsible American statesmen were then saying privately to Mr. Laval.

As a result of this growing sentiment for revision, France became increasingly isolated. A decided多数 in France and elsewhere in Europe are in favor of disarming all the other Powers. This is the only kind of peace which is possible in Europe. The only alternative to such a peace is a general war.

It follows that the military power of France, Poland and the Little Entente cannot be reduced except in so far as Great Britain and the United States provide equivalent guarantees. This has always been the French thesis, and was probably a false thesis in the days when the German Republic was fighting for its existence, and probably played a part in destroying the Republic. But, as matters stand today, the thesis is one which it is impossible to reject unless one believes that Germany is governed by men of good will. The British have made it perfectly plain that they now accept the French thesis, and there is good reason to suppose that the administration would not be discussing consultative peace negotiations or embargoes and the doctrine of neutrality with Mr. Herriot unless it had come to the same conclusion.

The prospect of having to choose between war and a peace which rests finally upon the superior power of the nations that are prepared to defend the existing order is not an inspiring one. But the wisest view of the situation, I think, is that political progress is foreclosed, and that the only radical cure for the political tension is to end the world depression. For what the Germans need is what we all need: employment and hope and a standard of life.

The Nazis are an army of unemployed who, in a land where there are too few jobs to go around, are seizing jobs that others can't fill. The only real remedy is to multiply the jobs so that men will cease to covet their neighbor's job. The return of prosperity, which France will keep her powder dry.

Alcohol in Gasoline

From the New Republic

A NEW scheme for farm relief has appeared and is attracting wide attention in the Middle West. Primarily intended for the growers of corn, it could also be used with potatoes, fruits and molasses. This plan is to encourage production of alcohol from corn, or other farm products, by passing a law saying that a certain percentage of each gallon must be mixed into every gallon of gasoline which is sold.

The scheme is admittedly uneconomical; the product would cost more than straight gasoline, and while it would be a little better, it would not be worth the difference. The price of corn would be raised, however, farm purchasing power would be restored and thereby 80,000 people, two-thirds of our population, would be employed.

Corn recently sold as low as 10 cents a bushel. If even 2 per cent of corn-alcohol were added to gasoline, it is estimated by authorities quoted by Science Service that the price would be raised to 50 cents a gallon. At that price, alcohol could be manufactured for 30 cents a gallon compared with a cost of gasoline at the refinery of about 8 cents a gallon. This would mean an increase in the retail price of gasoline of about 1/2 cent a gallon.

Suck alcohol-gasoline would be less likely to knock, would require less oil, give cleaner burning and improve motor performance at low speeds. The mileage per gallon would be slightly lower, though only with 2 per cent of alcohol added, these differences would be negligible.

Science Service says that the only kind of peace now possible in Europe is one which frees the existing frontiers. This is the fundamental fact in the present situation. The only alternative to such a peace is a general war. The kind of peace which until recently men looked forward to, under which there was gradual revision of frontiers, is now impossible.

Germany, when it comes to think, is not a profit-making organization. The oil industry, however, would be compelled to sell its land to the Government.

As compensation for loss of tax base in the endeavor to redistribute income for the benefit of the farmer, taxing the automobile owner and the oil industry for his benefit.

Benefits to local interests through National Forest administration, is declared, far outweigh minor financial aspects. In accordance with the fundamental principle of managing National Forests so as to promote growth of industry in the surrounding regions, the services offered are for sale to private enterprises on a competitive bidding basis, he explains. In the way, opportunity for employment not decreased by establishment of a national forest.

The Forest Service, Stuart concludes, does not aggressively advocate federal control of Missouri land against the desires of Missouri citizens. "However, in the event that Federal action is deemed desirable," he says, "the State should not impose restrictions interfering with effectiveness of the Federal program."

Establishment of National Forest areas in the Ozark region, it has been pointed out, would aid in furthering use of the forest land for recreational purposes.

TELLS WHY STATE DOES NOT HAVE NATIONAL FOREST

Chief Writes Senator Clark That Missouri Enabling Act Imposes Too Many Limitations.

TELLS WHY STATE DOES NOT HAVE NATIONAL FOREST

Chief Writes Senator Clark That Missouri Enabling Act Imposes Too Many Limitations.

U. S. WOULD LIKE TO HAVE TWO

Tentative Plans Include 1,055,000 Acres at Headwaters of St. Francis and Current Rivers.

Answering Senator Clark's recent query as to why no National Forest has been established in Missouri, Chief Forester Stuart of the United States Department of Agriculture has written the Senator that while the Forest Service has long favored national forests for Missouri it has been handicapped by limitations of the State enabling act.

"Even the larger limit for land purchase lately passed by the Missouri Legislature," Stuart's letter says, "mitiates against any effective accomplishment by the Government of watershed protection or timber production, and creates a grave uncertainty as to the advisability of attempting to establish a national forest in the State."

Several weeks ago the Legislature amended the State reforestation act of 1929 to increase the amount of land the Government might acquire in any single county from 2000 to 25,000 acres. Although Forestry Service officials usually require a minimum of 50,000 acres for national forests, the minimum requirement could be met in Missouri through acquisition of tracts of adjoining counties, the letter adds.

"The area limitations apparently were imposed," the letter continues, "because of doubt of the compatibility of the Federal program with the best interests of the State, the counties, or the landowners. A more satisfactory safeguard would be a provision in the enabling act that the Government could purchase no land until the boundaries of the area were approved by the Governor and the State land agencies."

Missouri contains about 850,000 acres of land, chiefly in the timber region, better suited to timber production than any other economic use, the Forest Service considers the State of major importance in forestry plans, Stuart says. Accordingly, tentative plans of the service for expansion of forest purchases include two potential areas totaling 1,055,000 acres and embracing the headwaters of the St. Francis and Current rivers.

Another factor in the service's approval of a Missouri National Forest is the fact that the service's plan for erosion control to reduce the volume of the lower Mississippi River is being carried out.

Against Arbitrary Condemnation

"Whenever the State is disposed to create conditions under which forest management can be effective, the Forest Service will contribute in every way toward adequate Federal participation in forest reclamation and conservation," Stuart says. "Until the State creates conditions favorable to Federal action, there would be no point in diverting funds from other existing purchase areas."

Stuart points out that the National Forest Reservation Commission operates on arbitrary condemnation, so that no landowner would be compelled to sell his land to the Government.

As compensation for loss of taxes to the State and counties, Stuart says in reply to a question by Clark, Congress has provided that 25 cents of each gross dollar of receipts from sale of timber and rental of Government lands must be distributed to the counties in which the land lies, and that an additional 10 cents may be used for road construction and maintenance.

Benefits to local interests through National Forest administration, he declared, far outweigh minor detrimental aspects of the reforestation with the fundamental principle of managing National Forests to promote growth of industry in the surrounding region, timber resources are offered for sale to private enterprises on a competitive bidding basis, he explains. In this way, opportunity for employment is not decreased by establishment of a national forest.

The Forest Service, Stuart continues, does not aggressively advocate federal control of Missouri land against the desires of Missouri citizens. "However, in the event that Federal action is deemed desirable," he says, "the State would not impose restrictions interfering with effectiveness of the Federal program."

Establishment of National Forest areas in the Ozark region, it has been pointed out, would aid in furthering use of the forest lands for recreational purposes.

The Chinese were advancing swiftly on the heels of the Japanese as the latter voluntarily gave up mile after mile of territory which it had taken them the last two weeks of capture.

Then the Chinese counterattacked and the Japanese forces were carried back toward Shantung and Shihmenchuan, their bases along the Great Wall of China, by railroad.

Both Chinese and Japanese reports have disclosed heavy casualties in the week's fighting in that region. The Japanese reports said nearly 3000 Chinese had been slain and admitted loss of at least 2000 Japanese.

FIRST LADY TO GIVE 'GRIDIRON' DINNER

Mrs. Roosevelt Bars Men Just as Newspaper Club Bars Women as Guests

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has arranged the first woman's Gridiron dinner, to be given here tomorrow night at the White House.

The President's wife will be hostess to Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, Minister to Denmark Ruth Bryan Owen, all women members of Congress, woman newspaper correspondents and prominent women politicians, who because of their sex are barred from attendance at the exclusive Gridiron Club dinner, scheduled also for tomorrow.

The idea, which has been amusing Washingtonians ever since it was conceived by Mrs. Roosevelt, definitely points out the flaw in sex discriminations in society.

Gridiron dinners have always been for the leaders of government, and as such were naturally stag affairs. This year, with a woman member of the Cabinet and a woman minister, as well as a woman director of the mint, no change from the old rules was observed. The men were not invited.

Mrs. Roosevelt therefore decided to give a rival dinner, inviting only women. The traditional rules of the men's dinner will apply. Guests will speak, but there will be no reporters present."

Mrs. Roosevelt often has expressed herself in favor of complete disregard of sex requirements both for public office and political activity. She believes in putting the fit person in the job.

IN WASHINGTON, DIRECTS HIS SYMPHONY IN PHILADELPHIA

Stokowski Demonstrates Dial-Wire Device Before National Academy of Sciences

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra played a concert over telephone wires from Philadelphia for an audience in Constitution Hall here last night, with Leopold Stokowski doing the conducting here with dials instead of a baton at the other end of the wire from his music stand.

The concert, held under auspices of the National Academy of Sciences, demonstrated the possibilities of sending orchestra music by wire. A similar demonstration was given in Philadelphia April 12, but with the music sent only from one part of a building to another by wire instead of between two cities. The technique of transmission of music by a symphony orchestra over wire was developed under direction of Dr. Harvey Fletcher of the Bell Telephone laboratories.

By handling controls Conductor Stokowski was able to regulate the sound at will as it came from an empty stage to the audience. In an introductory talk before the concert, he declared the advantages of wired transmission of music over, adding freshness and character to the music, ability to transmit tones from different sources in space, adding to the beauty and mystery of the music, and the possibility of gradually building up of sound from a soft beginning to a majestic climax.

FINNAN HADDIE

Two and one-half pounds finnan haddie.
Three tablespoons butter.
One cup milk.
Place fish spread out, flesh side up, in a pan. Dot with butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper and add milk. Place in hot oven until cooked through.

Milk Softens Meat.

The addition of milk to hamburger steak makes a big improvement in the flavor and texture. Use one-half cup of milk to a pound of meat, mixing it in thoroughly with salt and pepper to season and a little grated or finely chopped onion. Shape into cakes half an inch thick and bake or broil in a hot oven. The liquid keeps the meat from becoming hard and dry in cooking.

Lemon Butter.

Wash two quarts of asparagus, cut in small pieces with scissors. Heat four tablespoons bacon fat, one-fourth cup vinegar and one teaspoon salt. Mix all together and serve on hot asparagus or Brussels sprouts.

Wash Dandelion Greens.

Two tablespoonsful butter, one-half teaspoon salt, few grains paprika, one-half cup lemon juice.

Cream all together and serve on hot asparagus or Brussels sprouts.

Meat Specialist Will Speak at Solon High School.

Opportunity of witnessing the transformation of pork carcasses into new, and unusual cuts will be afforded retail meat dealers of St. Louis and vicinity, when Max O. Cullen, meat specialist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board will appear here in person.

This demonstration is sponsored by the Meat Products Merchandising Committee of the St. Louis Grocery Trade Council and will be held in the auditorium of the Solon High School next Monday at 8 p. m.

Cullen, whose work takes him from coast to coast in connection with the board's nation-wide educational program, will make a demonstration before meat dealers, students, teachers and other groups, stresses the importance of keeping pace with modern ideas in the field of meat merchandising.

Today there are new styles in meat cuts just as there are in dresses, hats and motor cars. The modern housewife purchases 85 per cent of the family meat supply.

There has never been a time when she has been discriminating in her role as a food shopper.

Small Amounts Purchased.

"She purchases as much or more meat than her mother or her grandmother did, but purchases it ottener and in smaller packages in this age of apartments, telephones, smaller kitchens and smaller kitchen equipment. She chooses her meat and other food purchases very carefully, looks for commodities packed in attractive containers or displayed in attractive form. The fact constitutes a challenge to the meat packer who merchandises meat. He must be alert to his opportunity," says Cullen.

The new models in pork cuts which he will feature in his demonstrations here, are cuts which have won the approval of retail meat dealers as well as housewives, hotel and restaurant men and other groups over a wide area.

Retailers have found that the new styles have been a practical value in stimulating the movement of the less demanded pork cuts. Housewives have been well pleased with the new cuts because of the fact that they are inviting in appearance, convenient in size, easily carved and since they offer a greater variety in the menu.

The demonstrations to be presented here are informal and retailers will be given the opportunity of asking questions and discussing some of their problems in meat retailing.

PIMENTO SANDWICHES

One-half walnuts. One-half cup chopped pimientos. One three-ounce package cream cheese. One-half cup mayonnaise. One-eighth teaspoon salt. Bread. Butter.

Chop the nuts and mix with the pimientos, cream cheese, mayonnaise and salt. Spread between buttered slices of brown bread or nut bread.

REVIVAL OF WHEELING SPURS APPETITES, SO TAKE ALONG SUPPLIES.

Sandwiches and outings go together, and the old standbys are fine to take along on the bicycle runs which are the form outings are assuming for so many this spring.

It's a wholesome recreation but don't start off without a package of sandwiches attached to your machine if going any length, for bicycling seems to be a decided appetite stimulator.

The greater the variety of sandwiches the better pleased are the riders, so here are a few suggestions:

Sandwich Fillings.

Spread buttered bread with a thin layer of cranberry jelly, then sprinkle with fine minced celery. Try finely chopped apples and celery too.

Wash prunes, dates, raisins or figs, chop fine; mix with about twice as much cream of cottage cheese, add salt to season.

Drain grated canned pineapple and mix with cream cheese and salt.

Mix chopped peanut butter, moisten with mayonnaise dressing and add salt and pepper to taste.

Grind shelled roasted peanuts medium fine, mix with enough cream to moisten, and add salt to season. This is particularly good as a filling for graham or whole wheat bread.

To one-half cup of cold Boston baked beans add two tablespoons chili sauce, mix, to a smooth paste and spread between slices of brown bread.

Grind the end of a cooked ham no longer suitable for slicing, mix with chopped dill pickle or green olives, and enough salad dressing to moisten.

Heat skinned roast beef in melted butter in a skillet until the beef curles at the edges. Use with crisp lettuce, cress or chopped parsley.

Crumble up roquefort cheese and mix with mayonnaise dressing. Use with lettuce and whole wheat bread.

Cream one-half cup of butter, add three-fourths cup fine ground watercress, one-half cup sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, few drops tobacco sauce, one-half tablespoon lemon juice and stir until well blended.

LEMON CUP CAKES

One and two-thirds cups sifted cake flour. One and one-half teaspoons baking powder. One-third cup butter or other shortening. One cup sugar. Two eggs, well beaten. One-half cup milk. One teaspoon lemon or vanilla extract.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, then flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add flavoring. Pour into greased cup-cake pans, filling them about two-thirds full. Bake in moderate oven 20 to 25 minutes. Frost as desired.

ORANGE AND NUT BREAD

One and one-half cups sifted flour. Three teaspoons baking powder. One-half cup sugar. One-half cup salt. One-half cup nut meats, broken. One-half cup candied orange peel, thinly sliced. One and one-half cups Graham flour.

One and one-half cups milk. One egg, well beaten. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, sugar and salt, and sift again. Combine nuts, orange peel and Graham flour, and add to first mixture. Combine milk and egg; add to flour, beating only enough to dampen all flour. Bake in greased loaf pan in moderate oven one hour.

SPINACH OMLET

Five eggs. Five tablespoons milk. One-half teaspoonful salt. One tablespoonful dripping or bacon fat.

One cup hot chopped spinach. Beat eggs lightly, add milk and salt. Melt fat in a pan and turn in the egg mixture, cover and cook slowly. As egg sets, lift with a knife, never allowing it to become hard. When nearly firm, spread one half with spinach, then fold other half of omlet over the spinach. Turn on a hot platter and serve. Or omlet may be folded without spinach and served on a bed of spinach on the platter.

PINEAPPLE AND PRUNE PIE

ICE CREAM AND ICES VIA REFRIGERATORS

Good Deserts Easily Prepared by New Method of Freezing.

When we were youngsters ice cream was the occasional treat, to be looked forward to with pleasure. It's still a welcome dessert, but served so often now that the novelty is gone.

In families where there are refrigerators, ice creams and ices are easy deserts that deserve the name of "old fashioned."

Many varieties of ice cream are possible if one has a good basic recipe like the following, to which fruits and flavorings may be added as desired:

Scald two cups milk in double boiler, add one cup sugar mixed with two tablespoons flour. Cook for about 20 minutes. Pour the over beaten eggs two at a time, return to fire and cook two minutes more. Add to this mixture while hot one teaspoon of gelatine which has been soaked for five minutes in one tablespoon cold water. Chill. Whip one and one-half pints of heavy cream until very stiff, then fold into cooled mixture. Add two teaspoons vanilla and one-eighth teaspoon salt. Pour into tray of refrigerator and freeze, stirring every 20 minutes until mixture will hold its shape.

To make chocolate ice cream melt three squares of chocolate, add one-fourth cup hot water slowly and stir until smooth. Add to above recipe before the whipped cream is added.

Lemon Ice.

Bolt one and a half cups sugar and four cups water with a mélange and one lemon together for five minutes. Remove rind, chill, add two-thirds cup lemon juice and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Pour into refrigerator tray, and stir several times when freezing. Take out twice, pour into cold bowl, and beat with egg beater. Before beating the second time, add white of one egg beaten a little. A few dissolved gelatine may be added to give perfect smoothness.

Here's a suggestion:

Get a package of CREAMETTES from your grocer. (It's a delicious macaroni product with new recipes to serve in tempting ways.) Children will eat CREAMETTES and enjoy them. It's good for them; nourishes, builds sturdy bodies. Try this idea. You'll be amazed. Two big packages of CREAMETTES at your grocer, cost only 15c.

CARAMEL PUDDING

One and a half cups soft crumbs. One-half cup sugar. Three cups milk. Two eggs. One-quarter teaspoon salt. Three cups of melted butter. One-quarter teaspoon vanilla. Or one-quarter teaspoon nutmeg. Caramelize sugar by stirring in frying pan over moderate heat, until melted and light brown. Scald milk in double boiler, and add caramel gradually, stirring constantly until dissolved. Pour over crumbs, and let stand 15 minutes.

Beat eggs slightly, add salt and stir in the mixture, and melted butter. Add flavoring and pour into a greased baking dish. Set in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven, for one hour until set. Serve plain, with cream or sauce.

GRAPEFRUIT - SHRIMP SALAD

Chill and drain can of grapefruit sections, or peel and slice two medium-sized grapefruits. Chill two cups of canned or fresh cooked shrimp, clean and marinate in one-half cup well seasoned French dressing for 30 minutes.

Drain and mix with one cup of finely cut celery, three large stuffed olives cut in slices, and one-third cup thin mayonnaise. Arrange in mounds on individual plates of crisp lettuce. Surround each mound with the grapefruit sections dipped in French dressing.

SHIRRED EGGS

Four tablespoons quick cooking tapioca.

One teaspoon salt. One teaspoon sugar. Dash of paprika. One teaspoon onion, finely chopped.

Two cups canned tomatoes, strained. Four eggs.

One-fourth cup grated cheese. One teaspoon parsley, chopped.

Add tapioca, salt, sugar, paprika and onion to tomato juice and cook in double boiler 15 minutes, or until tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Pour into greased baking dish. Make four slight depressions in same, and break an egg into each. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in moderate oven 15 minutes, or until eggs are firm. Garnish with parsley.

FISH SANDWICH FILLED

Here are some fish fillings for sandwiches for a change:

Combine one cup cooked or canned flake fish, one tablespoon minced green pepper, one tablespoon minced onion, one tablespoon minced onion and three tablespoons mayonnaise.

BEEF PATTIES

Drain can of rice, add two well beaten eggs, one teaspoon lemon juice, salt to season and one-quarter teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Drop from a small tablespoon into well greased frying pan and cook until brown on one side. Turn, brown and serve hot with broiled tomatoes.

MAYPOLE DECORATIONS FOR SPRING BRIDE

Miniature Reproduction of Old English Dance for Luncheon Table.

It's a long way from the old May day celebrations with dancing on the village green as one of the events, but a St. Louis bride is to have a reminder of the old picture days in the decorations a friend has planned for a luncheon for her next week.

An oval of green in the center of the table will represent the village pleasure grounds and a miniature May-pole will be placed in the center.

Small dolls in quaint costumes will take the parts of the May-pole dancers with gay ribbons to their poles to their arms.

Additional ribbons from the pole will be stretched to each plate, and will be attached to charming little nosegays of old-time flowers as favors for the guests.

Strawberry Dessert. The dessert at the luncheon will be strawberry

HOW TO WIN CHILDREN'S APPETITES

If your child doesn't eat proper foods, how can it hope to thrive and grow as it should? Of course you try, but sometimes trying gets nowhere with an infatuated appetite.

Here's a suggestion: Get a package of CREAMETTES from your grocer. (It's a delicious macaroni product with new recipes to serve in tempting ways.) Children will eat CREAMETTES and enjoy them. It's good for them; nourishes, builds sturdy bodies. Try this idea. You'll be amazed. Two big packages of CREAMETTES at your grocer, cost only 15c.

All the wild animals, scattered over the 10,000-acre park around the Hearst Ranch, turn toward the rising sun. The heavy bison graze toward the light, the gnus, that always look angry, lie down later than the others.

One young kangaroo, grown too big to fit in his mother's pouch, struggles to get back into it, as the car passes close to him. He is a conservative, would probably vote Republican.

Charley Ebien, who manages horses on this ranch, and formerly rode bucking horses at rodeos for five years, has a theory that should be communicated to our statesmen, dealing with foreign visitors in Washington.

Says he, "It is a question of knowing what the horse is going to do. You have got to ride him as fast as he bucks. If he gets half a jump ahead of you, you are simply out of luck."

All being quiet and submissive on this Western front, Mother Britannia turns lovingly to her own children and cuts 14,000,000 pounds off the British beer tax.

Lady Astor, Virginia's contribution to Britain's Parliament, a strong temperance lady, says "what the Government has done is to suspend the sinking fund, in order to create a drinking fund." Here it will be suggested that England is doing it, Uncle Sam.

Lester Buffet, the alert young man in the San Luis Obispo coffee shop, where railroad men get breakfast, lived in New York "an awful long time ago, nearly eight years. Do you remember the subway station at Lexington avenue and 125th street, and how the kids used to hang around with umbrellas, on rainy days, and pick up a few dimes, taking ladies to their houses? Well, one old lady actually made me walk her from Lexington and 125th street, to Second avenue and 14th, then gave me two cents and asked me if it was too much."

There's a valuable suggestion there, for our European debtors.

Dispatch from Berlin, received yesterday afternoon, by Universal Service report that Hitler is to have his way in control of Germany's churches, Protestant and Catholic.

Catholic Bishops, according to reports, conclude that "it is futile to oppose the trend of secularization and they will unite in a proclamation retracting all existing measures in force against the Nazis."

Dr. Kappeler, head of the German Evangelical Church League

announces "work will immediately begin on the creation of a new church constitution. Protestantism, therewith begins a new era. The German church is determined to hear the call of the hour and give the united people united church."

Hitler continues his onward march to absolute power. Born in Austria, he is a Catholic, Hindenburg is a protestant.

After next Monday, if you have any gold hoarded, exceeding $100 in amount, you are liable to a $10,000 fine or 10 years imprisonment or both. You might call that being REALLY off the gold basis, as regards American citizens. They hope that foreign nations will not be allowed to draw from Washington the gold that is considered too good for ordinary America, but they would not bet on it.

All above $100 in gold should be delivered to Federal Reserve Banks, branches or agencies before next Monday, in exchange for nice fresh paper money.

You may hoard that, if you want to; there will always be plenty more where that came from.

Sims Discusses Bridge Bids

BRIDGE

" by
P. HAL SIMS

The first fourteen articles in this series by P. Hal Sims have been reprinted in an attractive booklet. This booklet will be sent without cost to anyone requesting it. Address P. Hal Sims, St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Sims is acclaimed the greatest contract and auction player. He is captain of the renowned "Four Horsemen" team of four, and has won twenty-four national championships since 1924. These contracts are based on the Sims system, which includes the one-over-one principle which the Sims group of players was the first to employ and develop.

Lean Toward Optimism
Regarding Game Contracts

I HAVE concluded, for the time being, my discussion of the bidding procedure which follows an opening bid of one no trump or one notrump. When neither hand can invite a slam, development is the key. My opinion is, as you know, that you should take an optimistic view of close hands, and be more distressed if you tend to underbid them than if you tend to overbid them to the extent of a trick.

Opponents give you your contract on so many hands which could be beaten were all hands exposed. Especially when you avoid the wooden, unnecessary approach-bidding which has crept into the game, until it has become an addiction, an obsession which, by tipping off the defense, beats many not quite lay-down no-trump hands before the first bid is played.

Let us now consider the bidding of hands which offer slam prospects. We have already done this in connection with opening hands containing a concealed suit of five or more cards. Our present concern is with short-suited no-trump hands. When neither hand contributes a suit of five or more cards to work with, one needs solidly massed top cards to justify a slam. When this is done, bidding offers problems quite different in the two distinct situations: (a) Where the responding hand contributes suit length as well as high cards; and (b) where he contributes only high cards.

When Partner's Response Is Two

To encourage a slam over this response, the opening bidder needs plenty of primary tricks. How many? Well, let us work it out for ourselves. For let us insure against the stupid risk of taking a penalty on a high hand without even bidding the slam.

Determining the Risk.

The only way for the opening bidder to invite a slam in these circumstances is to bid four no-trumps, since we are dealing with short-suited opening hands. In the event that partner's response was based on minimum values, that he almost passed the opening bid, what is the least the opening bidder must hold in order that four no-trumps will not be a doubtful contract? Relying on dummy for not more than three kings or their approximate equivalent, with no five-card suit in either hand to work with, what must the opening bidder hold to lose only three out of the four? Let us count out a few partnership hands of this type, and I think you will agree that partner's hand should include five primary tricks. Also the hand must include three aces. It is in fact difficult to get that strength without them. Make the dummy.

Sp. A x x Dl. Q x x

Hs. A x x Cl. Q x x

and four no trumps will be reasonably safe if partner has

Hs. A Q x Dl. A x x

Hs. A Q 10 Cl. Q x x

that is, five tricks. Reduce him to 4 x x

Sp. A Q x Dl. A x x

Hs. A x x Cl. Q x x

and four tricks may be lost. You need in addition the jack of hearts and the ten of diamonds to give you, by virtue of a choice of finesses, reasonable safety in a contract for four no-trumps.

We May Still Precise, Define

Fromonson.

That is to say, you must be within a trick of the requirements for an opening two-no-trump bid or a short-suited hand. In terms of tricks, in order to make the slam try for four no trumps without jeopardizing game in case partner has a minimum responding hand, you need five primary tricks.

Now—No trump bidding beyond game.

Jelly Tests

Before we start on the season's jelly-making it might be well to bring in mind how to know when the jelly is done. Some jellies will suddenly boil up to the top of the kettle when they have reached this point, but this cannot be counted on. It is better to use the saucer test. Put a saucerful of the hot syrup on a small dish and set the dish directly on the ice. If in a few minutes the syrup is firm and jelled, the jelly is done. It is still runs when so cold, more cooking and testing is required.

BEHIND THE SCREENS
ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD, April 27. RD-WORKING fellows are these film comedians, and never believe otherwise. They live by writing for their stock in trade their ability to get laughs with every appearance.

The Marx Brothers—never a dull moment with them around—work seriously. Besides two regulars who work on their films, have been as many as a others called in to contribute the conglomeration of nonsense which Marxian movies are composed.

BRENDEL still clips faithfully, adding to his silent and growing collection of "giant" posters. His scrap book dates to his vaudeville days, and he is now trying to bring up a new which will serve in a picture. comedian is usually given more play in the matter of "writing own part" than other actors.

See how the comedians work! Ruggles had a scene in a musical in which, trying to bring up a romance on shipboard, offers the porter $50 to separate pair.

And Ruggles, waiting a moment for the "laughter" came back with "but—but wouldn't be any good that

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION

by MARTHA CARR

DEAR MRS. CARR:
WOULD be most thankful if you would kindly give your advice in this matter: I have been married 10 years to a man 12 years older than myself, have three lovely children and expecting a fourth soon. My husband is very indifferent, in fact, has called me by name more than once, and doesn't send me any greetings either myself or the children when he comes and goes. I am considered good-looking, a good housekeeper and a good mother. And I never nag him. But it seems I cannot please him. The only time he speaks to me is when he wants money from me, as I have given it to him quite often already; but when he tells me I can give him no more. The little money I have, I need to educate my children and to take care of me when I am old. I never will get a cent from him as he spends every cent he gets—I don't know how. I am not the jealous person, but I am coming to think there is some other woman. However, I would never let him know this. He has such a temper that I am afraid of him. Would you have him watched? This life is getting on my nerves. I feel I could take care of my children and do not want them to grow up with this unpleasantness. Please give me your advice about how to go about this.

MRS. THANKFUL.

MARY C. McCALL

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE
A WEEK or so later when he got home he found a letter from the Navy Department.

"Oh, yes," Janet said, "it came for you today."

Scoty read it. "Well," he said, "it seems funny to get orders after so long."

"Orders? But you resigned."

"I know," he said, "but I'm still in the Reserve. I've got to go and make some speeches for them. Wouldn't that fair you?"

"Why?" said Janet.

"Oh, they've had some trouble in a couple of shipyards. There seems to be a big strike brewing among the shipyard workers. And I've got to go up there and talk to them. I don't know why."

"Well, are you going to do it?"

"Yes," he said. "I've got to do it. I've been ordered to do it."

"But you don't know anything about this labor situation."

"No," he said. "I don't."

"But how can you?"

"Because I've had orders," said Scoty. This was going to be another quarrel. He fell in the air, like thunder. "If you have any criticism you can forward them to the Navy Department."

That was a cheap thing to say. He kept remembering it for the week he was away. He'd heard married people saying things like that to each other, and he'd always thought that he and Janet could never bicker like that. Why not? When he loved her so much, that a thing like that could happen? She was so dear to him, he wanted her to be happy. He could remember. They had known so much beauty together. The thought of their trouble was always with him, like a dull persistent ache in his head.

Touring the shipyards, making lame speeches to crowds of workers, being stared at and cheered at, the wives he was thinking constantly of Janet and himself—remembering Bermuda, the first time he'd taken her to a dance, the first time he'd kissed her, the fund they'd had together when they were kids, the day they found their apartment, Christmas Eve sitting before the fire, little things about her, her voice—"I, Janet, take thee, Scoty, and then—things he'd said. "If you have any criticism you might forward them to the Navy Department," the kind of cheap sarcasm which he'd always associated with a trivial marriage—quarreling and nagging.

WHAT had happened to him and Janet? When he got home they'd talk this thing out. They'd get back to being serious and loving—close to each other, understanding each other so perfectly that these cheap squabbles that shamed him to remember would never happen again.

He bought flowers at the station. He couldn't get home quickly enough. He felt sure that all this trouble could be smoothed out. There was nothing fundamental wrong between them; there couldn't be when they loved each other so much. He rang the bell downstairs instead of using his latchkey, because he wanted her to be at the head of the stairs waiting for him. She was there, looking down.

"Hello, darling!" he called out to her while he was still one flight down because he couldn't get up fast enough.

"Hello, darling!" he said. He reached her at last, put his arms around her. "Oh, Scotty, I'm so glad to have you back!"

"And am I glad to get back!"

"Was the trip very bad?"

"Terrible," he said. "A lot of darn silly ballyhoo—crowds, and—but let me look at you. Have you missed me?"

"You know," she said.

Yes, he knew. It was all right. There wasn't any trouble between them.

"Janet," he said. "I've been thinking a lot while I've been away." It was hard to talk about those things they'd said to each other. Those quarrels seemed so far away now. "I said rotten things to you just before I left."

"Don't think about it, dear."

"Of course it's all right."

"It's just this crazy life they make me lead."

"I know," she said.

"I don't know what got into me. It won't happen again."

"No," she said. "We've both been—I've been unreasonable, nagging at you. Oh, Scotty, I love you so!"

FOR a week—two weeks—it was just as it had been in Bermuda.

It was June, and the summer twilights were long. Several evenings that took the car and drove up the Hudson for dinner; came back together in the warm moonlight darkness.

"Scotty," she said one day. "I've been thinking it would be nice to ask your mother down for a week-end. She hasn't seen the place."

"I know," said Scott. "I'd like to, but are you sure you wouldn't mind?"

"Of course not. I want to have her."

That was sweet of Janet, and it would mean so much to Mom.

"I'll write her," he said.

Mom was coming on a Friday afternoon. It was that Friday morning that Mary Sheldon's divorce suit was spread across the front pages.

"Oh, Scotty," said Janet. "Poor Mary. Isn't it dreadful? You remember her from home."

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

by
Mary Graham Bonner

The Bear's Wedding
0 H, the excitement around Pudle Muddle was very great. The creatures went back and forth to the cave where Jelly Bear and his bride, Honey Bear, were going to live.

The Ducks had gathered a number of ants and had put them in tin boxes which they had arranged on a rocky shelf in the cave. Willy Nilly had painted "Ants" on the boxes, and had also attached cards which read, "With love and congratulations from the Ducks."

He had taken over a number of jars of jelly and several jars of honey and had put them on another shelf.

The Notch, the Rooster, had found a number of delicious roots which he had tied together with a piece of colored string.

Rip, the Dog, had gathered a great many nuts and had put them in the cave as his wedding present. "I'll act as the best man, or perhaps I should say the best dog," said Rip, "and Willy Nilly will marry the couple."

So, the Bear and Jelly Bear stood on Willy Nilly's front porch while the other animals stood all around, and Willy Nilly said:

"Will you take this Honey Bear To be your loving wife?" "I surely will," growled Jelly Bear, "And love her all my life."

"And will you, Honey Bear so sweet, Take Jelly Bear for thine?"

"I will, indeed," said Honey Bear, "And gladly call him mine."

"Now, you are all ready to be wedded, And now I surely feel That we should have, without delay, A special wedding meal!"

Deeds Louder Than Speeches

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

THE longest speeches in Congress can now be engraved on the head of a pin with an ice-pick.

We quote from the Congressional Record dating from March fourth:

"I think—"

"It seems to me—"

"I arise to a point of order—"

"Mr. Speaker—"

"I yield the floor—"

These speeches are the longest efforts of leather-chested, experienced orators. There ain't any more use of talking these days than there is of consulting your time table after the boat has sailed.
